MAX CALDWELL: RAGS TO RICHES AS A UNION BOSS!

Broke in 1936, Ruler of 12,000 in 1941.

Evidence gathered by Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford tended to show yesterday that Max Caldwell, ousted boss of 12,000 members of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, had made a large fortune in the labor racket and now ranks as subordinate only to Frank Nitti and Murray Humphreys, the heirs to the Capone gangster empire.

Max Caldwell.

Among the disclosures by Crawford, who has been assigned by State's Attorney Courtney to the rackets investigation, were:

1. That Caldwell, virtually broke in 1936, made money so fast after getting a strangle hold on the AFL clerks' organization that he was able four years later to buy a $45,000 winter estate in Florida from Nitti.

2. That the lush dues collected from more than 12,000 Chicago clerks was not the only source of wealth for Caldwell. Crawford said Caldwell had used three skeleton unions as levers to pry tribute out of drug, shoe, and furniture merchants who did not want to have their employés unionized.

Federal Agents on Trail.

Crawford's charges dovetail with reports that the government is collecting evidence that Caldwell, who under the name of Max Pollack was sentenced to an Indiana state prison for bootlegging in 1925, had an unreported income of at least $240,000 in the last four years.

A group of store employés who revolted against the Caldwell régime and exposed its tawdry aspects have sued for an accounting of funds, fixing the total take of the gangster boss and his aids at $910,000. So far, Crawford and other investigators have looked in vain for books of the local union. Experienced labor leaders doubt if any ever will be found. They don't think Caldwell and his stooges kept books.

It was confirmed in Miami Beach, Fla., that the $45,000 estate at 714 West Di Lido drive on Di Lido Island passed into Caldwell's hands in the last few months. The residence, of concrete blocks, is 70 feet wide and 84 feet deep, has four bedrooms, three baths, and two maids' rooms. It was built in 1936 and overlooks Biscayne bay. It is barely a mile from Al Capone's estate.

Estate Dealings Bared.

The records show that the property was purchased by Mrs. Nitti in 1937. She died last fall, and Nitti contracted to sell the place to Caldwell, who agreed to make payments of $450 a month on it. Joining Caldwell in the transaction was his wife, Mrs. Lorraine Wills Caldwell. She is the daughter of Charles Wills, circulation manager of the Chicago Federation News, a union organ.

"Caldwell's is the success story of a once poor but always energetic gangster," said Crawford. "In 1925, a bootlegger who was sentenced to prison [there is no record to show the time was ever served]; in 1928, a minor Capone mobster; in the early '30s, a slugger for the waiters' union; a little later an unsuccessful night club operator. The magic wand was waved over him when he got control of the clerks' union in 1937, and out of the $2 a month dues from the members built himself into a Florida estate owner."

Unable to Pay Workers in 1936.

Records show that Caldwell in June, 1936, was unable to meet his pay rolls while he was running the After the Show night club at 2052 North Halsted street. The state fire attorney quizzed the employés of the place after it was damaged by a mysterious fire and learned that the boss owed each of them small sums up to $60.

Soon after this Caldwell was appointed local organizer of the Retail Clerks' international. C. C. Coulter, secretary treasurer, said the appointment was made at the instance of Wills, the Chicago labor chief who, in addition to his many other duties, is a member of the board of review of the state unemployment compensation department.

Crawford also learned from Coulter that Caldwell did not report the num-

ATLANTA SHUTS AUDITORIUM TO WHEELER TALK

Council Spurns Plea for Free Speech.

Atlanta, Ga., July 18 [Special].—The Atlanta city council today refused Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] permission to speak in the city auditorium at a proposed anti-war rally on Sept. 5, unanimously rejecting appeals that permission be granted "in the interest of free speech."

After the vote, partisans rushed to the front of the chamber and caused so much confusion that police finally took charge and asked them to leave.

A group led by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, director of the Legion of American Women, assailed as a war monger one of Wheeler's most vigorous critics at the meeting, Maj. Trammell Scott, president of the Southern Baseball association.

"It was men like you," Mrs. Andrews shouted at Scott, "who took our boys away from us in the last war."

Declares War Imminent.

Scott had declared flatly that war is imminent and that he was glad this situation had arisen here, "because it will let the people of the nation know how the south's leading city stands in this moment of peril."

Scott and other opponents of Wheeler's proposed address repeatedly attacked the noninterventionist senator for what they termed abuse of free speech in "giving away military secrets" because of his announcement that United States troops were to occupy Iceland.

Granger Hansell, Atlanta attorney and chairman of the committee of Atlantans sponsoring the proposed anti-war rally, was chief spokesman in behalf of the senator. The front row of spectators applauded his remarks.

Quotes Other Americans.

Hansell praised Wheeler's nonintervention attitude and quoted from speeches by President Roosevelt and other leading Americans in an effort to show that they share some of his views. He pointed out that use of the Atlanta auditorium has been granted to a wide variety of organizations and expressed surprise that any one would oppose its use for the discussion of a matter so vital to the future of the country.

The council's municipal buildings committee previously had compelled the cancellation of arrangements for Wheeler to speak in the auditorium earlier this month following announcement that a group of citizens had protested against him speaking here. The committee gave no reason for its rejection vote today.

A similar attempt to prevent an anti-war speech by Philip La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin, at a meeting sponsored by the America First committee at Miami, was defeated last spring. Other America First rallies at Brooklyn, where Charles A. Lindbergh was to speak, and at the American hall in San Francisco were banned.

PANAMA CANAL SAFE FROM AIR BLITZ: ANDREWS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 18 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Frank Andrews, new chief of the United States defense in the Caribbean area, said in an interview today that "with American bases in the Caribbean islands in advanced stages, I believe the danger of sustained air attack on the Panama canal has been eliminated."

Andrews, on his way home from an Argentine independence celebration, said that a single long range raid on the canal might be possible, but that it could not paralyze the canal.

Concerning Brazil's importance in hemisphere defense, he asserted that "due to the proximity of Africa, I consider Brazil a vital Latin American point in any mutual scheme of hemisphere defense."

Cupid's Double Talk Really Is Love Language

Detroit, Mich., July 18 [Special].—Double talk over the telephone effected the reunion today of a bride and her husband of two weeks after a separation in which he charged that her parents were detaining her forcibly at home.

Their language of love, a mumbo-jumbo of sounds designed to confound eavesdroppers, went something like this:

"Jag-arch-ull-eoph amump understand ulpy ae gee gump remember police wooee jert wit jos help."

[Double talk—of the Detroit variety—is a mixture of gibberish and proper words. The proper words, separated by a series of unintelligible syllables and sounds, convey the message or meaning intended and often are code words, as they apparently were in this case.]

Files Habeas Corpus Writ.

Acting on the double talk information, the husband, Armand Renaud, 22 years old, a senior at Wayne university, filed a petition Thursday for a writ of habeas corpus to regain his wife, Marie, 17.

He charged that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Kopp were keeping her from him against her will.

"You see," Renaud said, "we ran away and got married in Napoleon, O., July 6 and came back and went to our homes. We told her folks Wednesday and they made me leave. I haven't seen my wife since.

"Then she called me on the telephone and I knew she was talking in front of her folks. She said she could never see me again, but that's where the double talk comes in. She gave me the word 'understand.' 'Understand' is a song—our song. It meant I was to understand she was only fooling."

Parents Appear in Court.

The bride's parents appeared today before Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan for a hearing on the writ. They testified they really weren't keeping Marie a prisoner. They considered her young to be married, they said, and had asked her to think it over.

"That's right," said Marie. "I've decided I love him."

The young husband, overjoyed, said he was sure he could support her on his salary of $25 a week as a car lot attendant. The bride's parents thereupon withdrew their objections to the marriage and Judge Moynihan dismissed the suit for the writ.

Armand and Marie left the court room arm in arm.

SHOOTING OF SERUM STARTS ON TROOPS HEADED FOR TROPICS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The navy reported today that first inoculations against yellow fever were being given thousands of officers and men who might be exposed to the disease in the new Atlantic island bases or elsewhere.

A special vaccine developed by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research is being used by the army as well as the navy.

Starting a mass inoculation campaign early, the army in recent weeks has immunized the entire command in Puerto Rico. All other officers and men at posts in tropical regions are being inoculated, and those ordered to duty in suspected localities undergo preventive treatment before departure.

The navy said that in addition to officers and men at tropical posts, the members of their families also would be inoculated.

FAMOUS ITALIAN ATLANTIC FLYER DIES IN A CRASH

ROME, July 18 (AP).—Lieut. Col. Arturo Ferrarin, 46 years old, one of Italy's most noted pilots and one of the first flyers to cross the Atlantic, was killed today in the crash of a new type of experimental plane.

Col. Ferrarin participated in the World war, flew from Rome to Tokio in 1921, competed in the Schneider cup races in 1926 and 1927, and flew from Rome to a point near Natal, Brazil, in 1928 for what was then a nonstop distance flight record of 4,448.82 miles.

Earlier in the year Col. Ferrarin and Maj. Delprete had set a world record for sustained flying, staying aloft 58½ hours. For these exploits Ferrarin was awarded the gold medal as the best flyer of 1928. Premier Mussolini, in 1928, named Ferrarin as his personal pilot-in-waiting.

Mrs. Appel Proves Mate's Face Would Stop a Clock

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18 (AP).—Casper Appel, electrician, asked the judge today for a divorce from Jacqueline Appel on the grounds that she clouted him in the face with an alarm clock and then said: "I've been told that you had a face that would stop a clock, and I wanted to prove it!" They have a daughter, Joy.

Sheriff Wields Ax on City Jail in Gaming Raid

Taylorville, Ill., July 18 [Special].—Sheriff Virgil Ezra is a man of action. When he wants something he goes about the job of getting it in the most direct manner.

Today he raided the Taylorville city hall. He broke into jail cells with sledge hammers and crowbars. He smashed his way thru a wooden door. He summarily arrested Chief of Police Ed Zemke.

The sheriff merely was after some gambling equipment and he got it in the amount of three truckloads, consisting chiefly of 120 slot machines. He removed the equipment from the city jail to the county jail.

It's a Political Feud, Sir!

Back of the spectacular assault is a political feud between the sheriff, who is a Democrat, and State's Attorney Tom Sweeney, a Republican. It seems that the prosecutor, who is conducting a drive on gambling in his bailiwick, feels that he hasn't been getting as much coöperation from the sheriff as he expected.

About six weeks ago warrants were issued for the seizure of slot machines at two places here. There was a little delay in the sheriff's office and when the warrants finally were served the machines had disappeared.

The state's attorney led the next raid, on June 26, and seized six machines. He duplicated his success at Pana on July 10 and seized 11 more. Yesterday, still acting without notifying the sheriff, he and his men raided a storehouse here and seized 103 slot and pin ball games.

Serves Warrant with Celerity.

In raiding the city hall, the sheriff acted on a search warrant issued by Justice of the Peace D. E. Noonan in behalf of James Farney of Taylorville. Farney, who was arrested by the prosecutor in yesterday's raid on the storehouse, stated in an affidavit that he owned the machines and that they had been illegally taken from him.

The sheriff served this warrant with celerity. Accompanied by his deputies, he descended upon the city jail and demanded from Chief Zemke the keys to the cells and a Boy Scout room where the gambling machines were stored. When Zemke refused, the sheriff arrested him and ordered his men to break down the locked doors.

After the gambling devices had been trucked away, Zemke was taken before Justice Noonan, where he was freed promptly on orders of Prosecutor Sweeney.

PANZER TROOPS PERIL MOSCOW; 3 BATTLES RAGE

The Russian high command today admitted that soviet troops were fighting desperately to stem a German thrust toward Moscow. It said three great battles were raging "with great losses on both sides."

For the first time in days, the soviet general staff made no claim that its lines were generally holding.

The Russian announcement followed German claims that Nazi mechanized troops had smashed over and beyond Smolensk on the most direct route to Moscow. Smolensk is a railway center, 230 miles southwest of the soviet capital.

Bids for Draft Stir Tempest in Australia

BY W. A. O'CARROLL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia, July 6 [By Air Mail].—A proposal to draft Australians for service overseas has created a tempest in parliament and drawn a warning from the Labor party that the country is certain to be attacked and should reserve its resources for its own defense.

The debate on conscription, which has been an inflammable subject since Australia's draft campaigns of the World war, did not precipitate a government crisis, but arguments reached such a high pitch that Premier R. G. Menzies clamped on the censorship. The censorship department, acting on his order, prohibited publication of reports of the fiery clashes.

Draft Called Democratic.

The tempest was precipitated when Archie Cameron, former minister of the navy, and Duncan Hughes, government representative, declared conscription for service overseas was the only "democratic way to fight the war."

Representative Blackburn, a Laborite, declared he felt "sure Australia would be attacked and its resources, therefore, should be reserved for its own defense." He explained that he did not desire to be cut adrift from Britain, and added:

"Our membership in the British commonwealth of nations commits us to defend this country. The only alternative would be the dishonorable one of seceding from the British commonwealth while the battle is on."

Labor Chief Fights Move.

Joseph Curtin, Labor leader, said the Labor party is irrevocably opposed to conscription.

"Those who urge its adoption," he added, "are only disrupting the war effort by their constant urging of a coercion which this country has rejected decisively and which no political party has ever sought since to obtain."

Many powerful trades unions immediately adopted resolutions opposing conscription and supporting the cherished Anzac tradition of volunteer service.

National security regulations expressly provide for voluntary service overseas until revoked by a referendum of the people. Prime Minister Menzies conceded this point.

Censorship Assailed.

In ordering the censorship applied to the debate, Menzies said he took the action "to prevent the discrediting of this parliament." Representative Frank Brennan, Laborite, commented:

"If members' statements in the house are to be censored in the newspapers, those statements will at least appear in Hansard [the parliamentary record]. The whole thing is incredibly foolish. How can we expect parliament to enjoy the respect of the public if the members are to be coddled in glass cases and kept remote from public criticism?"

U. S. Workers Fill Houses; Bermuda Probes Problem

HAMILTON, Bermuda, July 18.—An investigation of the housing problem brought about by the influx of workers for the United States bases was ordered by the assembly today. Charges were made that the natives had been turned out of their houses by landlords to rent the premises to Americans at higher rents. In some cases, it was said, the natives had been left homeless. In other cases rents have been raised 150 per cent. One suggestion made was that the American workers should not be allowed to bring their wives and families to Bermuda.

F. D. R. DEMANDS CONGRESS PASS EMERGENCY ACT

Resolution to Face Battle in House.

A Dakar 'Retreat'

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 18 (AP).—Robert E. Wood, national chairman of the America First committee, told interviewers today:

"I have information that President Roosevelt intended to take over Dakar, Cape Verde, and the Azores just as he took over Iceland, but army officials stepped in and prevented the occupation. And I also am informed that an attempt to repeal the neutrality act will be made in congress soon. But it will be defeated."

Wood termed the occupation of Iceland "a rank, unjustifiable move to get us into war."

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Passage of a national emergency resolution by congress, which automatically would permit President Roosevelt to retain some 1,000,000 draftees, National Guardsmen and reservists in service indefinitely, will be sought by the administration in lieu of substantive legislation extending the service of the citizen soldiers.

Gen. George C. Marshall.

This was revealed by administration leaders in congress today after President Roosevelt had announced at his press conference that he intends to send a special message to congress next week urging authority to extend the service of the draftees, National Guardsmen and reservists.

This latest move came in the face of widely varying opinions from army officials regarding the eagerness of the National Guardsmen and draftees to give further service. Some generals gave a picture of a large majority of their men favoring extended service if convinced they are needed. Other generals indicated considerable numbers of soldiers had serious doubts that any real emergency exists, and want to go home when their time is up.

For "Hemisphere Defense."

Mr. Roosevelt said his message would not deal with the question of using such troops outside the western hemisphere. Authority to send them anywhere in the world was requested by Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, but the President has abandoned this proposal, at least temporarily, because of overwhelming congressional opposition.

Administration leaders intimated that congress would be asked to declare that a national emergency exists in order, as they put it, to "impress the people with the seriousness of the situation."

Testimony before the senate military affairs committee today on the proposal to extend the service of draftees and National Guardsmen indicated that the troops have not been impressed by repeated representations that the nation is imperiled.

The Old Cry of "Wolf!"

According to congressional leaders, the people have heard the "emergency" cry from President Roosevelt and his cabinet officers too many times to be impressed. Comparing the situation to the boy crying "wolf" in the fable, they recalled that administration spokesmen had fixed a time limit—90 days—for the arrival of a supreme crisis when they testified in support of the so-called lease-lend bill.

The declaration of a national emergency by congress would sustain the President's own "unlimited national emergency" proclamation of May 27. Under the national defense act of 1920 it would permit the President to keep National Guardsmen, reservists, and regular army enlisted men in service indefinitely. Under the conscription act of 1940, draftees may be kept in service longer than 12 months if congress declares that "the national interest is imperiled."

These declarations are to be incorporated in a resolution to be offered as a substitute for bills extending the service of army personnel which Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the military affairs committee, introduced by request of the war department.

The opposition to such a resolution may be even stronger than the bills would face, some congressional leaders believe. Its prospect of passage by the house is said to be especially doubtful.

This opposition to extension of army service has been gaining momentum since Senator Arthur H. Vandenbergh [R., Mich.] revealed last Saturday that he had received a petition from an infantry company of Michigan men now stationed at Camp Livingston, La., protesting that "prolongation of our service would be an actual breach of contract and certainly a blow to our morale." The signers said this statement represented the feelings of 90 per cent of the men in the camp.

W. M. Haskell

At today's hearing of the military affairs committee, Maj. Gen. William M. Haskell, commander of the 27th [New York] National Guard division, now training at Fort McClellan, Ala., expressed the opinion that 98 per cent of his men would remain in service voluntarily if congress should declare a national emergency.

Senator Josh Lee [D., Okla.] a vociferous interventionist, professed surprise. He asked Gen. Haskell whether the men "are not sufficiently aware of the danger."

"I am afraid that's the case," Gen. Haskell replied.

Eagerness Is Disputed.

Maj. Gen. John F. Williams, chief of the National Guard bureau, submitted reports from National Guard division commanders which, in some cases, refuted the glowing statements of war department officials about the eagerness of Guardsmen and draftees to be kept in service.

J. F. Williams

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33d [Illinois] division, now at Camp Forrest, Tenn., reported:

"As to the enthusiasm of the Guard to remain in service longer than a year, I cannot agree with you altogether. The army is still the army. There are a great many of the original National Guardsmen who do not find themselves as happy as they thought they would be.

S. T. Lawton

"If the matter were put up to these men right now on a voluntary basis, I am sure a great many would prefer to go home at the end of the year. We do believe, however, that upwards of two-thirds of the Guard would be glad to stay in service."

Idea to Finish Job.

Maj. Gen. E. A. Walsh, commander of the 34th division [North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Iowa], now training at Camp Claiborne, La., reported that the Guardsmen under his command had never had "any other idea but to stay in until the job is finished." As to the 6,500 draftees in his division, however, Gen. Walsh reported: "With few exceptions I believe these men desire and expect to be returned home at the end of a year."

E. A. Walsh

Maj. Gen. John C. Persons, commander of the 31st division, Camp Blanding, Fla., said his officers and men unquestionably would be desirous of doing their part if the country should become engaged in war.

J. C. Persons

"On the other hand, if their service is to be a matter of training, it is my opinion that 50 per cent of the officers and enlisted men would like to be released at the end of 12 months," he added.

The reports of the other National Guard commanders were generally favorable to the extension proposal.

SCHEME TO HOLD DRAFTEES HIT AS MOVE FOR WAR

New York, July 18 [Special].—John T. Flynn, chairman of the America First committee, tonight in a radio broadcast branded the "pretended draft army crisis" another manufactured step intended to hurry America into the European war. He warned that if this country does go into the war it must be prepared to see its men die by the thousands.

Flynn termed a "pure, deliberate invention" the claim that the army faces a "tragic crisis" if boys are not held in the draft army beyond their year of service. He called it another move in the "persistent and cunning effort to get us into the European war. That's the reason for this pretended draft army crisis."

The draftees, altho called to serve a year, Flynn said, will not be discharged all at the same time. Those going out will be replaced by others being inducted into the army, he said. In view of this, he asserted the statement that the army is about to disintegrate is a "pure, deliberate invention."

ROOSEVELT MUM ON NAVAL MOVES IN BOTH OCEANS

Warns Press Conference Against Guessing.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Behind an impenetrable cloak of secrecy Washington hummed today with activities pertaining to the movements of American armed forces in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Where our ships and soldiers are being sent, President Roosevelt declined to reveal to his press conference.

"I don't think it right that I should pull another Wheeler," said the President, granting permission to quote him directly.

Mr. Roosevelt's reference was to the fact that Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] gave to the country its first news of the occupation of Iceland by American marines. Wheeler said he had learned that the occupation was in progress. Several days later the President announced the occupation in a special message to congress.

Denounced by Churchill.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill denounced Wheeler for the disclosure, asserting that it had imperiled the safety of the British troops who were being withdrawn from Iceland to be replaced by the Americans. The President echoed Churchill's ire.

The President made it clear that he intends to exercise to the full his constitutional power as commander in chief to send our army and navy into action wherever he deems it necessary for the defense of the United States from aggression. He will order warships or troops or both to distant places to resist or forestall moves by Germany, Italy, and Japan, and will inform congress of his acts afterward.

War Advisers Called.

The current activities are connected with Mr. Roosevelt's sudden call last night for a conference with his chief advisers on war policies, strategy, and tactics. Hastily summoned to the White House were Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations; Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the Atlantic fleet, and Rear Admiral Richmond K. Turner, chief of the battle plans division of the navy's general staff.

Altho neither the President nor other participants in the conference would disclose the decisions reached, it was apparent from the personnel of the group that naval operations were the subject of discussion.

So far the President has permitted the public a modicum of vague information concerning the activities of the navy against German submarines, surface raiders, and bombing planes in the Atlantic.

Linked to Tokio Moves.

Japan also is being narrowly watched by the President and the tendency on Capitol hill was to link the White House conference of last night with the cabinet shift in Tokio and reports that the Japanese are preparing to attack either our ally, Britain, at Singapore, or our new ally, soviet Russia, in Siberia.

At his press conference Mr. Roosevelt was emphatic in asserting that the sea lanes to Iceland and other American outposts of defense will be kept open. He held there is no disputing the soundness of that policy. Military authorities were agreed, he said, that the occupation of Iceland by an unfriendly power would be a serious blow to hemisphere defense. Hence the United States had no choice but to occupy Iceland to forestall its invasion by an unfriendly power.

Sea Lanes to Be Kept Open.

Having occupied Iceland, the President went on, we are confronted with the question whether we shall protect the American garrison or leave it to its own devices. There may be some people who would say we should not protect it, but the President holds with those who say we obviously not only must protect it but maintain open lines of communication and supply.

These sea lanes to Iceland, to Newfoundland, to Bermuda, and to other bases will be protected, the President emphasized. They will be protected against attack or threat of attack. He could say no more than that. He challenged any one present to define a threat of attack, leaving the inference that either he or naval commanders on the spot will decide what is a threat of attack.

The President cautioned against indulgence in speculation on the future moves of our armed forces. Apparently this was a reference to speculation on naval moves against Japan and on expeditions to seize the Portuguese Azores and Cape Verde Islands and French Dakar on the western bulge of Africa. The President himself, in his May 27 fireside chat, loosed a flood of speculation on that subject when he said those Atlantic outposts in German hands would constitute a threat to the United States.

With Chicago Colored Troops in Camp

Swirling Clouds of Dust Fail to Break Morale at Ft. Custer

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Custer, Mich., July 18.—Dust swirled in clouds, obscuring the passing trucks, and sifted in a fine pall thru mess hall window screens and into the barracks. It came churning up from the feet of marching soldiers and from clattering bull-dozers and road machinery hacking new roadbeds for the old regimental streets.

Chicago's all-colored regiment, the 184th field artillery [formerly the 8th infantry of the Illinois National Guard], has been in camp here since Jan. 15, but it is still surrounded by the flurry of construction work. Barracks are being painted and roads are being laid across the sandy soil.

In an effort to relieve the monotony of the barren barrack area, and to lay some of the dust, most of the batteries have marked off company streets, walks, and the "front yard" with gaily colored stones, set off against black earth. It is a surprising sight for the visitor to come suddenly upon these red, white, and blue stones after tramping thru dust and sand.

A Surprise for Friends.

Most of the landscaping was done last month as a surprise for a trainload of 2,000 mothers, wives, sweethearts, and other relatives who came 175 miles from Chicago on June 8. The night before, under a battery of lights from their trucks, the men had worked until early morning dressing up the cantonments.

Only one paved road traverses the 16,000 acres of Fort Custer's expanded area. Last winter heavy snow and slush made it virtually impossible for an automobile to be driven into the regimental area.

Despite the handicap of nature an intensive training program which leaves them little free time, and the lack of motor equipment and much of their ordnance, the 1,660 guardsmen and draftees seem to have good morale. They get good food, the men say, and plenty of it. The cooking is improving. Col. Anderson F. Pitts, the regimental commander, believes that most of the men are eating better balanced meals than they did at home.

Recreation Work Started.

Their recreational program, held back by the need of speedily converting infantrymen into artillery soldiers is now getting under way. The regimental theater has just been completed. The troops have been promised a service club by Oct. 1.

However, there are no plans for a guest house. Visitors from Chicago either come for the day or attempt to seek quarters in the small colored community in neighboring Battle Creek, seven miles distant. But there are few adequate quarters. Married officers and noncommissioned officers are unable to find accommodations for families, so wives remain at home.

For recreation Battle Creek offers several movies and a few cafés where the soldier can obtain a reasonably priced meal or beer. Whiskey is sold only by the bottle.

There is a swimming pool on the post and a public bathing beach in town, both available for colored troops [in addition to the 184th, Fort Custer also houses the 94th engineers and two quartermaster regiments.]

A Good Health Record.

Col. Pitts and his staff are proud of the regiment's health record, accomplished despite a shortage of medical and dental officers. The record is one of the best on the post. Its hospitalization rate, 350 per 1,000 men per year, is lower than the entire fort's rate of 400.

The 184th is the only regiment which has not been under quarantine at some time during the year. Last winter it had very few influenza cases, and only one case of pneumonia.

BOARDS PREPARE TO PUT NEW MEN ON DRAFT LISTS

Army Reverses Ruling on 28 Year Olds.

Draft boards in Cook county and thruout Illinois yesterday were making ready to assign places on the draft rolls to July 1 registrants on the basis of Thursday night's lottery in Washington. It is probable that holders of low numbers will be inducted into the army about Sept. 1.

Meanwhile, the war department again reversed its position regarding draftees 28 years old and over. Instructions to corps area headquarters yesterday were to accept men in this age group on a volunteer basis, if a waiver of rights under pending deferment legislation is signed.

Draft Boards Get Order.

Draft boards received similar instructions from the office of Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy director of selective service. For the last two weeks, instructions have been to reject even those who wished to volunteer if they were 28 years old on or before July 1.

The new ruling was said to be an indication that war department officials, altho desiring as young an army as possible, have decided it will be necessary to accept older men if the army's strength is to be increased to four million men.

Over the week-end local draft boards expect to receive master lists, or photostatic copies of the numbers drawn in the Washington lottery.

Will Prepare New List.

Each board will eliminate from the master list all numbers which are greater than the board's total registration of new men. Thus obtaining a list of new registrants in the order assigned by the lottery, they can begin the work of integrating, or "sandwiching in," the names of new men and October registrants.

Officials say this process will require several weeks. Without waiting for the posting of lists in local board offices, however, the registrant may determine his order number and the approximate time at which he will be called for examination by using the tables and accompanying instructions published in THE TRIBUNE Thursday and Friday.

23,788 New Men Registered.

A final tabulation showed that 23,788 men recently turned 21 registered in Cook county under the July 1 order. This figure also includes aliens who entered the country since the first registration last October.

Draft officials said about 35 per cent of the 21 year old registrants, or some 8,300 in Cook county, will be class 1-A. This is based on a breakdown of age groups, using the 187,231 men examined in Cook county since last November.

Parran Puts Arms Health Needs at 1¾ Billion More

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Dr. Thomas Parran of the public health service estimated today an additional $1,885,137,891 would be needed to provide proper health facilities in preparedness areas. He told a house committee studying defense migration that $1,524,436,000 of this should be spent for housing and that $170,874,294 was needed for medical care.

CAVALRY SEEKS MOBILITY THRU SUPPLY BY AIR

Transport Planes' Use Planned.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Bliss, Tex., July 18.—The veteran 1st cavalry division may become one of the army's most mobile forces, served in the field by its own fleet of big cargo transport planes capable of dropping tons of supplies by parachute, if plans of Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commander of the division, are realized.

For months Gen. Swift has realized that his horse mounted division, adapted to swift action in mountainous or wooded terrain where mechanized forces would bog down, has one great drawback. It is slowed down and its movement confined by the fact that it must depend for supplies upon truck columns which in turn depend upon roads.

Today Gen. Swift revealed that he has recommended to army headquarters in Washington, D. C., that the division be allowed to experiment with an aerial supply train using large civilian transport ships in the test. His recommendation has been concurred in by Maj. Gen. John K. Herr, the chief of cavalry.

Seeks Tests in Maneuvers.

Gen. Swift had hoped to conduct his experiment during the current war games in which 17,000 men of the 1st cavalry division, the 56th cavalry brigade, and attached forces are engaged in the sun blistered desert country 30 miles northeast of Fort Bliss. This plan had to be abandoned. He now hopes to obtain permission for the test during the great army maneuvers in Louisiana later this year.

"The feasibility of such a plan cannot be questioned," Gen. Swift said. "During the war in Ethiopia great units of ground troops were completely supplied by the Italian air corps. The German army has aerial supply developed to a high degree. Many items were transported by air during the Holland campaign. It is common knowledge that the Germans supplied their tank units in the battle of France by air transport and the occupation of Crete was done by air.

Need 105 to 118 Planes.

"Thruout the United States there are more than 300 civilian transport planes with a cargo capacity of two tons. More are being built all the time.

"In the field, a cavalry division in combat would need approximately 450 tons of supplies a day—gasoline and oil for its scout cars, food for horses and men, ammunition. We estimate that such a division would need 105 to 118 cargo planes to keep it operating efficiently and entirely independent of ground supply systems.

SAVE ALL WASTE PAPER, IS PLEA TO HOUSEWIVES

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, today urged that housewives save waste paper for collection by waste paper dealers.

"Waste paper supplements the nation's available supplies of wood pulp," Henderson said. "Evidence of a growing shortage of this essential raw material emphasizes the need to save waste paper in all its forms."

Henderson cited estimates that more than two-thirds of the newspapers, magazines, paper boxes, and wrappings that find their way into American homes are destroyed.

AMERICA, BRITAIN WILL DESTROY NAZIS, SAYS LORD HALIFAX

San Francisco, Cal., July 18 [Special].—Closely linking the United States and Great Britain, Lord Halifax, British ambassador to this country, declared in a speech before the Commonwealth club tonight that they cannot fail to destroy Nazlism. He asserted any peace Adolf Hitler might offer "will have no interest for us."

Halifax said that when he looked at such great documents as the Magna Carta and the Declaration of Independence, "I refuse to believe that the civilized world, that those two great democracies, can fail to destroy such a vile and beastly sham as Nazlism has proved itself to be."

Second Case of Paralysis Found Near Camp Forrest

Tullahoma, Tenn., July 18 [Special].—A second case of infantile paralysis was reported today in Coffee county, home of Camp Forrest, where 30,000 soldiers are stationed. Dr. A. E. Hardison, state epidemiologist, reported that no new cases had been discovered in Franklin county. The new one in Coffee county brought to 19 the number of persons with the disease in this locality. There has been one death.

MORIARITY DEATH TRIAL TURNS INTO CORRUPTION QUIZ

Moynihan Denies He Took Abortion Bribe.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

The trial of Daniel Moriarity, suspended state's attorney's office policeman, for the murder of Ada Jane [Jennie] Martin, daughter of Mrs. Ada Martin, alleged head of the million dollar abortion ring, was devoted mostly yesterday to whether corruption existed in the state's attorney's office.

Wilbert Crowley [top] and Emmett Moynihan.

The murder, for the time being, was the one thing the jury of seven men and five women was not hearing about. The trial is being held in the Criminal court before Judge John A. Sbarbaro.

The two witnesses were First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley and Attorney Emmett Moynihan, ousted assistant prosecutor. Crowley in behalf of the prosecution, gave testimony intended to bolster the charges made by Moriarity in his confession that at least three members of the prosecutor's staff in addition to Moynihan were corrupted by the abortion ring.

Denies Accepting Bribe.

Moynihan, appearing as the first defense witness, emphatically denied he received a $5,000 bribe to make the way easier for the abortionists. Policeman Daniel Kenney, also under suspension was just as emphatic that he did not receive $50 a month from the ring.

Defense Attorney James M. Burke said he expects Attorne; Ben Nelson, also a former prosecutor named in the confession, to testify Monday. Attorney Morris Meyers, the other prosecutor named as receiving a $2,500 bribe is flying back from Los Angeles to enter his denial, Burke said. Meyers probably will testify Tuesday. Moynihan and Meyers were fired by State's Attorney Courtney after the expose. Nelson left the office two years ago.

Prosecutor Crowley took the witness stand immediately after Assistant State's Attorneys Richard Austin and Alexander Napoli read to the jury Moriarity's confession in which he admitted he killed Miss Martin, but said that he did so by mistake. He intended to kill her mother, the confession read, because she threatened to expose the graft payments when he reported to her he could not fix her latest case.

Says Abortionists Released.

Crowley said Moynihan in January of 1940 had released abortionists without conferring with him. The abortionists were not even taken to court, Crowley testified. Prosecutor Meyers, he asserted, did not present all the evidence on an abortion raid in August, 1940, and allowed the case to be thrown out of Felony court on the technicality of police entrapment.

On cross-examination, Crowley, altho acknowledging his obligation to see that assistants properly performed their duties, said he did not know these facts until Moriarity confessed.

Moynihan admitted he released the prisoners in the January, 1940, raid on the office of Dr. Josephine Gabler. The releases were not made, however, until after an investigation showed that no case could be proved, Moynihan said.

"I explained the case to Mr. Crowley and we decided together we had no case against the doctor and nurse [who were arrested], so I told the police with his knowledge to release them," Moynihan testified under questioning of Burke.

Q.—Did you ever take any bribe money from Moriarity or any one else to influence your official actions?

A.—I never did.

Q.—Do you know Moriarity made such a statement—that is that he [Moriarity] paid you $5,000 from Ada Martin.

A.—If he made such a statement he must have been out of his mind.

Prosecutor Austin then cross-examined Moynihan.

Q.—Did you take any shorthand statements from any of the people arrested in that raid? A.—I did not.

Q.—Why didn't you? A.—Because I didn't think they were telling the truth and I saw no purpose in it. The witnesses did not want to prosecute or coöperate.

Q.—Don't you know as a matter of fact you did not consult Mr .Crowley in that case?

A.—He said in Mr. Courtney's office he did not remember me consulting with him, but I know I did.

The defense produced several policemen and Harry Morris, a bondsman, to testify that Moriarity in their opinion was insane before and after the shooting. Morris, who said he saw Morarity dragging his coat along the walk in front of the Sherman hotel the day before the murder, said:

"He [Moriarity] was crazy, crazier than Adolf Hitler."

Plead Guilty in Espionage Case

The former pleaded guilty to failing to register as agent for a foreign country, and the latter pleaded guilty on a similar charge and also to conspiracy to transmit information to a foreign power.

Eight Admit Charges

New York, July 18 (AP).—America's biggest spy hunt, which, federal operatives said, linked the German government with a five year old worldwide offense against this country's physical safety—today brought pleas of guilty from eight persons and put 23 others under $25,000 bail to await trial on Sept. 3.

Of 33 persons arrested, 23 pleaded innocent when arraigned in Brooklyn federal court on a two count indictment accusing them of acting as agents for a foreign government without so registering and of conspiracy to transmit vital information to a foreign government.

Five pleaded guilty to both counts, as had one other previously. Two pleaded guilty to the charge accusing them of being unregistered agents but innocent on the conspiracy charge. Two others face later arraignment.

CANADA TO LET AMERICANS USE GAS CREDIT CARDS

TORONTO, Ont., July 18 [Canadian Press].—G. R. Rottrelle, Canadian oil controler, today announced the relaxing of the new restrictions on purchases of gasoline and oil to allow American tourists to use credit cards issued by distributors who carry on business in the United States.

The regulations announced Tuesday banned the use of all credit cards starting next Monday. Other restrictions forbade the sale of gasoline between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. on weekdays and all day Sunday to any one in Canada.

The gasoline purchased by a tourist on the credit card must be used "only in a motor vehicle bearing a license issued by one of the United States of America."

80 Flee Croatian Prison; 18 Slain; 10 More Executed

ZAGREB, Croatia, July 18 (AP).—The escape of 80 prisoners jailed as communists, Jews, or subversive Serbs from Kerestinoe castle, 11 miles from Zagreb, was disclosed today with an announcement that 28 were slain or captured and executed. The others are at large. Croatian police shot 18 as they attempted to swim the Save river. Ten days ago 10 communists were shot in reprisal for the killing of a policeman.

PLANES CAN'T FLY ON POTS, PANS, METAL MEN HOLD

Old Aluminum Not Pure Enough, They Say.

Chicago metallurgists deplored yesterday the implication broadcast by spokesmen for Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, United States director of civilian defense, that aluminum donated in the national round-up of pots and pans July 21 to 29 will be sufficiently pure to go directly into the manufacture of military and naval equipment for national defense.

Technicians for the six Illinois smelting firms designated by Gov. Green's defense council as refiners of the scrap aluminum asserted that little, if any, of the aluminum obtained in next week's drive will find its way into airplanes. Spokesmen for the two plants which will melt up Indiana's cast-off utensils bore them out.

What They Understand.

The experts said they understood that the pot and pan campaign was to enable their plants to keep turning out commercial products thru use of the remelted utensils, thus freeing virgin aluminum for more precise defense needs.

"It will be impossible to purify this scrap aluminum to the exteht that it will meet government specifications," said John West, superintendent of the Whiting, Ind., plant of the American Smelting & Refining company. [This plant will melt half of the utensils collected in Indiana while the company's St. Louis plant will handle scrap collected in southern Illinois and eastern Missouri.]

Contain Other Metals.

"Some of the pots and pans will contain bits of iron, copper, lead, and tin, chunks of solder used in repair work, and perhaps occasional hinges made of German silver," said West.

"I expect we'll find cast aluminum among the pots and pans sent to us," said Carl Thieme, metallurgist for H. Kramer & Co., 1359 21st street, who will melt up part of the Illinois collection. "Cast utensils are far from pure, containing as little as 90 per cent aluminum. It won't be possible to refine them. The high strength bronzes specified by the government require virgin aluminum."

G. H. Starmann, metallurgist for the Apex Smelting company, 2537 Taylor street, said the public should be told that pure aluminum never can be made from the utensils they donate. M. S. Cohn, secretary treasurer of L. A. Cohn and Brothers, Inc., 5429 Roosevelt road, added that the scrap can be used for commercial purposes only.

An official of William F. Jobbins, Inc., Aurora, revealed that his company is expanding its plant to five times its present size to keep abreast of the scrap smelting program.

The national aluminum roundup is scheduled to start Monday. In Illinois, Gov. Green has set 1,000,000 pounds, or 5 per cent of the national quota, as the goal. Chicago is expected to contribute half this amount.

To facilitate the collection of Chicago's share, Police Commissioner James P. Allman yesterday designated district police stations as repositories for the metal.

GERMAN TROOPS PASS SMOLENSK, GATE TO MOSCOW

Nazis Less than 230 Miles from Red Capital.

BERLIN, July 18 (AP).—German panzer legions have smashed over and beyond the strategic city of Smolensk on the most direct route to Moscow, the high command announced tonight in a special communique, thus bringing them to a point less than 230 miles from the soviet capital.

The German forces took Smolensk Wednesday, the high command said, and then shattered attempts of the Red army to retake the vital rail and communications center.

Nazis "In Steady Advance."

The high command gave no indication as to how far beyond Smolensk the German wedge had been driven. Two days of fighting, however, are behind the Germans since the city was taken and DNB, official news agency, reported them today to be "in steady advance." The agency presented this picture:

The Red army suffered heavy losses in the defense of Smolensk and in the attempts to retake it, while German casualties were "exceptionally small."

The Russians threw all possible forces into the defense of the city, the last large important city before Moscow. A completed section of a high speed motor highway from Minsk to Moscow extends eastward from Smolensk.

Smash Thru Gateway.

The Nazi forces capturing the city broke the Stalin line between Vitebsk and Mogilev and battled their way to and beyond the city over the broad land gateway which lies between the Dnieper and Dvina rivers.

During the day press dispatches gave frequent glimpses of bitter fighting in the Smolensk area. One report told of a big tank battle and another recounted the capture of a Russian army division headquarters by a German infantry battalion southwest of Smolensk.

In the tank battle at Krasnoe, 30 miles southwest of Smolensk, the Germans destroyed 210 out of 300 Red tanks.

The fighting apparently raged over a wide, indefinite area. The battle zone was said to be from 60 to 75 miles deep in some places, with no sharply defined lines existing as great forces of men and steel clashed.

Bomb Railway to Moscow.

The German air force aided in the Smolensk operations by bombing the Smolensk-Moscow railway, destroying several trains and derailing others. Nine Russian batteries were put out of action.

The offensive in the central sector on the road to Moscow appeared to be developing faster than on the other fronts where the principal breaches were made in the Stalin line a week ago.

The other main Nazi wedges with the Panzer divisions pointing the way are directed at Leningrad in the north and Kiev in the south, European Russia's principal cities, next to Moscow.

Both were described in military quarters as "threatened."

Capture Soviet Airport.

German troops "advancing in the direction of Leningrad," surprised and captured a Russian airport with 150 planes, and, in the same area, encircled a small town and took 3,000 prisoners, 4,000 horses, and 1,000 trucks. These prisoners included "a whole battalion of women."

Press dispatches told of German successes against Russian naval units in the Baltic. German battle planes on scouting duty attacked a flotilla of Russian destroyers off Riga bay, hitting two destroyers in a first attack and hitting three others in a second assault.

Four undamaged Russian submarines and the minesweeper Lenin were seized by the German occupation forces in the Latvian port of Libau [Liepaja].

At the southern end of the front it was said that "thousands of Russians were taken prisoner in mopping up operations "in the region of Chisinau, Bessarabian capital, the capture of which was announced by the high command yesterday.

Germans Drive Toward Moscow

Captions on the map, based on the Russian and German communiques, summarize yesterday's developments in fighting on the long battle line.

RED ARMY DIGS IN TO STEM LUNGE TOWARD MOSCOW

Battles with Bayonets in Trench Warfare.

MOSCOW, July 19 [Saturday] (AP).—Russian troops dug into improvised trenches and fought desperately all day yesterday in an effort to stem a German attempt to widen the dangerous Nazi salient threatening the high road to Moscow, the soviet information bureau acknowledged today.

"Both sides suffered great losses," the communique said, in describing raging battles in the Pskov-Porkhov [on the road to Leningrad], Smolensk, and Polotsk-Nevel sectors.

[Nevel, mentioned for the first time by Moscow, is about 75 miles northeast of Polotsk in a lake country and about the same distance due north of Vitebsk, which the Germans say they overran to get to their present positions beyond Smolensk on the high-road to Moscow. The Germans apparently are widening the Smolensk salient far to the north to protect that flank. Unlike two previous communiques the Russians made no mention of unchanged soviet troop dispositions and by naming the Nevel area they inferentially acknowledged a German thrust to the north.]

Destroy Oil Convoy.

An entire Rumanian convoy of two oil transports and five oil-laden barges was reported destroyed by Red airmen in the Danube, near the river's mouth. The war bulletin said the first bombs hit two barges and a tanker, starting fires and explosions which spread a vast sea of flames that engulfed other craft.

Relating the destruction of a Nazi mechanized unit at an unspecified point on the line, the communique said a soviet mechanized force lay in wait until the Nazis crossed a bridge then let them have a devastating barrage.

German men and machines sped back onto the bridge but were hurled into the river by the dynamiting of the span, the Russians declared. Others were killed in an attempt to escape.

Advance Toward Odessa.

Heavy fighting was reported in Bessarabia, where the Germans evidently were pushing toward Odessa, the Black Sea port.

Thirty-one German planes were shot down, the communique said in describing Thursday's aerial warfare. Moscow had a half hour air raid alarm last night, but no bombs were dropped.

BRITISH ACCLAIM HOPKINS PLEDGES OF HUGE WAR AID

Favor His Participation in Cabinet Sessions.

LONDON, July 19 [Saturday].—London newspapers today almost unanimously acclaimed yesterday's heartening war aid statements by Harry L. Hopkins, supervisor of the United States lend-lease program, and his presence Thursday at a meeting of the British war cabinet. His pledges of increased aid were made in an interview with the British and American press.

The Daily Mail said Hopkins "may now claim to be an adviser to the British government." It expresses the hope that the practice of the American sitting in on the British government's inner councils "will be continued" as demonstrating the "extremely close relations" between the two countries.

Hail Shock to "Fence Sitters."

Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express says, "The words of Harry Hopkins will give an electric shock to the fence sitters. They will put [Spanish Chief of State] Gen. Franco, for instance, on the hot seat."

The Daily Telegraph, stressing the extent of American aid promised by Hopkins, comments, "Neutrality could hardly be more benevolent."

In referring to the ovation Californians gave Lord Halifax, Britain's ambassador to America, the Daily Mail say that it "reveals a solid determination thruout the middle and far west [of the United States] to help Britain beat Germany."

Promises Many New Ships.

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—United States shipbuilding yards will complete and make ready for sea at least 6 million tons of merchant ships during 1942, and will produce 1 million tons this year, Harry L. Hopkins, supervisor of the United States lend-lease program, told interviewers today.

[The recent acknowledged British shipping losses have been at the rate of about 6,000,000 tons a year.]

Hopkins, who said he would be here a week or 10 days to survey the entire problem of American war supply to Britain, also asserted:

The United States will build enough ships "to bring the goods into the United Kingdom and into every theater in the world where democracies are fighting Hitler."

Merchant ships flying the American flag are not engaged in convoys to the United Kingdom, but American built ships under foreign registry are.

Ships flying the American flag could go to Iceland.

"The President has said our goods are going to arrive, and all I can say is that we are going to do it."

"We are going to protect our own ships."

Sees Plane Building Superiority.

Of aviation Hopkins said:

"We have launched our vast program of airplane production, which is moving ahead very rapidly now. Great new factories are coming into production in the near future, particularly for four engine bombers capable of knocking out factories and sources of supplies in the most distant parts of eastern Germany.

"We are convinced that, between England and America, we can build fer more planes per month than Germany—and better ones. The same is true of tanks.

"We are going to increase very substantially the plant production of tanks, anti-tank guns, and anti-aircraft guns."

Asked how he happened to sit in yesterday on a meeting of the British war cabinet, Hopkins said: "I didn't know I was doing that. I just dropped in and saw a lot of people I'd met when I was here before."

Norwegian Ship Reported Sunk by Axis Bombers

New York, July 18 (AP).—The Norwegian freighter Tejo, 967 tons, has been sunk by axis planes off the coast of Portugal and four of her crew are missing and presumed dead, marine circles said today. The vessel was en route from Gibraltar to England. Eleven crew members were rescued.

SMOLENSK: SITE OF MANY BATTLES IN MIDDLE AGES

Smolensk, which the Germans claim to have captured, is the administrative center of the province of Smolensk and one of the oldest towns in Russia. It was a place of great importance during the middle ages. Situated on the Dnieper river at a point where the plateau is deeply entrenched, the town is 230 miles southwest of Moscow. Its population was 71,177 in 1926.

The area has been the scene of many battles, dating back to its annexation by Lithuania in 1408. In 1514 it was retaken by the Russians. In 1611 the town fell to the Poles. The Russians took it again in 1654.

Smolensk was annexed to Russia in 1686, and during the 18th century Smolensk played an important part as a base of military operations by Peter the Great in the Russian wars with Sweden. The town suffered greatly in 1812 when it fell to Napoleon after a two day battle. Smolensk has been developed as a railroad junction. Its industries include copper and iron smelting, the making of machinery for the textile industry, saw milling, the manufacture of woolen goods, brick and pottery making, and brewing.

BRITAIN APPEALS 'FOR V ARMY' TO GO INTO ACTION

LONDON, July 19 [Saturday]—(AP).—The British propaganda service issued a call today for "mobilization of Europe's invisible millions" in German-occupied territory to launch on Sunday an undercover fight against the Germans under the secret sign of V—for victory.

A British Broadcasting corporation announcer broadcast an appeal to the conquered peoples to take a vow to continue the fight for independence. He added:

"Put V's on walls and everywhere you can and beat out the V sound [three dots and a dash] whenever you get a chance. Let V be splashed from one end of Europe to another. The V army is a strange one, but one the Germans fear."

He reminded his listeners that the Roman numberal [5] is a V and urged them to refer to the Old Testament Book of Daniel, chapter 5 verse 5, and read the story of the writing on the wall.

SPAIN TO RECEIVE $40,000,000 IN ARGENTINA GOODS

MADRID, Spain, July 18.—Argentina and Spain have decided to make an arrangement under which Spain will receive wheat, corn, cotton, and other agricultural products to the approximate value of $40,000,000, it was declared today. It is expected an agreement will soon be signed. About 20,000 bales of cotton are said to be involved in the deal.

Spain plans to send Argentina iron ore, thus filling Spanish boats now going to South America in ballast, and manufactured products. Credit would be guaranteed by the Central Bank of Argentina with the cooperation of the government, and Spain would pay off its deficit within 10 years.

President Doubts Britain Wants Lend-Lease Profit

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—President Roosevelt asserted today that the terms of repayment of lend-lease aid to Britain still were in the talking stage. Asked whether it was possible for Britain to make a profit on lease-lend materials, as by selling wheat at a higher price than that at which it was transferred from the United States, the President said he doubted if there was any desire in Britain to make a profit on food or anything else. It would not be quite according to Hoyle, he remarked.

Britain Calls for More Men for Flyer Rescue Launches

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—The air ministry appealed today for men from 18 to 42 years of age to man high-speed launches of the RAF's rescue service which patrols the seas around Britain.

BRITON SAYS GERMANS FACE OIL SHORTAGE IN WAR WITH REDS

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Germany's armies and air force are threatened with a severe oil and fuel shortage if the Russian campaign continues thru September, a ministry of economic warfare source declared today.

German supplies already are "severely cut" by the war with Russia and the Red air force's bombardments of the Rumanian Ploesti oil fields and oil-shipping port of Constanta, according to this source.

He said the Germans lost an annual supply of about 1,000,000 tons of oil when they attacked the soviet union.

Nazi war needs now have used up all oil stocks captured in the Polish, Norwegian, Flanders and French campaigns, this source continued, and "there are many signs of a serious shortage among civilians in Germany."

'CHICAGO'S OWN' AIR SQUADRON RECRUITS 25 MEN

Attempts at recruiting a squadron of navy flyers to be known as "Chicago's Own," which will begin training Sept. 30, have been so successful that a second squadron to be known as the "Blackhawk Squadron" probably will be recruited soon.

Lieut. Carl G. Olson, commander of the naval flight selection board, announced yesterday that 25 young men of Chicago have now been accepted for "Chicago's Own." There will be 35 flyers in the completed squadron. Of those accepted, 16 are from Chicago, three from Evanston, and one each from River Forest, Highland Park, Wheaton, Mundelein, Winnetka, and Oak Park.

Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel, commander of the 6th corps area, yesterday announced the formation of a third all-Chicago flying cadet unit. Two groups of 20 men each already have completed the 30 week training course and received commissions in the army air corps.

POLISH MISSION IN CANADA SEEKS WAR VOLUNTEERS

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18 (AP).—A Polish mission headed by Maj. Gen. B. Duch is in Canada to raise men to fight on land, sea, and in the air against Hitler.

Gen. Duch said there were several million Poles in North America, many of whom would be eager to join the colors. Including in the mission is Wing Commander Kzashodebski, who commanded the Polish fighter squadrons in Britain.

6 BRITISH PLANES LOST IN RAID ON DUNKIRK: NAZIS

BERLIN, July 18 (AP).—Destruction of six British combat planes during RAF raids in the neighborhood of Dunkirk today was announced tonight by DNB, official German news agency. A DNB tabulation indicated that in the 20 hour period ended at 8 a. m. today, German forces had destroyed 32 British planes, a number of them over England.

The high command contended that British air attacks on western Germany Thursday night were without "any noteworthy effect," and 10 British planes were said to have been shot down when they attempted to attack the French channel coast yesterday. Four more were reported shot down in the channel by mine sweepers. The German air force bombed the English northeastern port of Hull last night.

[The British said their planes harassed axis shipping off the French coast.]

RAF POURS BOMBS ON 4 AXIS CITIES ON LIBYAN COAST

CAIRO, Egypt, July 18 (AP).—Heavy bomb attacks on the axis held Libyan coastal cities of Tripoli, Bengazi, Derna, and Bardia on the last three nights were reported today by the royal air force middle east command.

The British army reported the nerves of the axis forces besieging a British force in Tobruk, on the Libyan coast, "evidently are becoming frayed" by the garrison's continued vigorous sallies, "as he is now resorting to searchlights for ground observations at night."

British headquarters said the French governor of Djibouti, in French Somaliland, had been requested by them to remove women and children from the colony, but has not replied.

Rome Admits Raid on Sicily.

ROME, July 18 (AP).—The Italian high command today acknowledged British planes had bombed Palermo, Sicily, announced the sinking of two British transports off North Africa, and reported heavy air fighting over the British Mediterranean base of Malta.

BRITISH TO OUST OBSTRUCTIONISTS FROM INDUSTRY

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—The government tightened its powers over controled industries today with a drastic order-in-council authorizing the removal of "obstructionists" and the assumption of financial control over an offending company.

The order permits the replacement of any one with managerial authority for obstructing an authorized controler. It also gives power for the acquisition at a "fair price" of the company's shares and their transfer to treasury nominees.

The order is an extension of the government's powers to take over industrial concerns whose war production is unsatisfactory.

BRITISH WARNED: SAVE PAPER OR PRESS MAY DIE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 18.—Newspapers and magazines may be forced out of circulation and literature and news may be "cut to a starvation diet" unless greater efforts are made by the public to save waste paper.

This warning was made today by H. G. Judd, salvage controler of the ministry of supply. Speaking at Birmingham, he urged that all waste paper, "even old love letters," be saved.

Women known as "salvage stewards" are being appointed to supervise groups of households to see that all waste materials are saved. Drives are being conducted to make the public "salvage conscious."

Nazi Press Opens Another Attack on Switzerland

BERLIN, July 18 (AP).—The government controled press opened one of its periodical attacks on Switzerland today. One foreign office commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, said Germany watched "with growing astonishment the not understandable hesitancy of Switzerland on the issue of European solidarity against bolshevism."

FRANCO PLEDGES ANTI-IMPERIAL POLICIES IN SPAIN

MADRID, July 18 (AP).—Spain will not pursue a policy of dominating imperialism, Generalissimo Francisco Franco declared in a speech today observing the fifth anniversary of the outbreak of the civil war in which his regime was born.

Speaking at Villaverde near Madrid, Franco declared: "More than 800,000,000 beings exist in the world without the necessities of life, for they are enslaved by the power of great empires. Workers who lure and dazzle you with their weekly wages of four, eight or 12 pounds [about $16, $32 and $48] are living from imperialism and from the misery of other beings.

"If Spain had carried out this policy in America, if Spain had carried out this policy of domination abroad, Spain would still be profiting from those countries, which would still be in a semi-savage state. . . . Spain will not dominate with the desire to enslave."

Franco's government marked the anniversary with a wholesale pardoning of political prisoners.

Manchukuo Places Curb on Travel by Foreigners

SHANGHAI, China, July 18 (AP).—Foreigners, including German nationals, applying for Manchukuo transit visas to travel from Dairen to Tientsin, were informed that none is being issued, it was learned today. The reason was not known, but observers saw a possibility it might be connected with Japanese troops movements.

DARLAN GIVES UP ONE OF SIX VICHY CABINET POSTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, July 18.—Admiral Jean Darlan, who is slated to be successor to Marshal Henry Philippe Petain as chief of state, has relinquished the portfolio of minister of the interior, one of the six posts he holds in the marshal's government, it was officially announced tonight.

Pierre Pucheu, prominent French industrialist, will succeed to the ministry of the interior, but his position will be subordinated to Darlan's post as vice president of the council. He is expected to concentrate on solving the communist problem.

In the shakeup of the marshal's cabinet last February, when adjustments were made to smooth the way for German collaboration, Pucheu was given a post as undersecretary of state for industrial production and sent to Paris, where his job was to get enough raw materials from the Germans to start the wheels of French industry rolling. François Lehideaux, general delegate for national requirement, succeeds Pucheu in this job.

NEW CABINET TO SPEED JAPAN ON SECRET COURSE

'Policy Fixed'; Premier Calls for Unity.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, China, July 19 (Saturday)—(AP).—Foreign dispatches from Peking, China, said today the Japanese were concentrating trains there to transport troops either to Japanese-dominated Manchukuo or Inner Mongolia.

TOKIO, July 19 [Saturday] (AP).—Japan, with a newly streamlined cabinet loosed from political party ties and made up in half by three admirals and four generals, set forth anew today on her "immutable" but still secret foreign policy.

"The empire's policy for coping with the international situation has been fixed and it now remains for us to put it into practice with decision and speed," said the premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoe, after the first meeting of the new government, the third he has headed.

What action might be in prospect, Konoe did not say. He simply called on the nation for unity because, "with the rapid changes that are taking place" in international affairs, "the mission of our country is growing heavier and heavier."

"Day to Day" Changes.

Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda, who became foreign minister in a shakeup that ousted Yosuke Matsuoka, said Japan's foreign policy might have to be adapted to the "day to day international situation."

But the broad lines of that policy, whatever it is, will remain what they were even before Matsuoka father of the neutrality pact with Russia as well as the axis alliance, was ousted.

The minister of war, Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo, said:

"The main lines of national policy for coping with the international situation, having been submitted to imperial decision, remain immutable despite the change in the cabinet."

May Uphold Two Pacts.

The official declarations that Japan's foreign policy was unaltered were taken by some informed persons to mean that the campaign for the "greater East Asia coprosperity sphere," the alliance with Germany and Italy, and the neutrality pact with Russia still were cardinal points of policy.

[To preserve all these points the only possible new move by Japan would seem to be southward, perhaps in French Indo-China, for there she would neither be attacking Russia nor, ostensibly, running counter to the axis.]

Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma became vice premier in the shakeup.

The Japan Times and Advertiser, controled by the foreign office, asserted that "a Roosevelt wall is being built and strengthened about Japan's eastern front which threatens the safety of this empire."

Kumataro Honda, ambassador to the Japanese sponsored Chinese government at Nanking, and Vice Minister Chuichi Ohashi submitted their resignations today to the new foreign minister.

Sees Hope for Better Relations.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, indicated tonight that the new Japanese cabinet may offer hope for improved Japanese-United States relations.

"The American state department," he said, "has manifested a desire to keep open the approaches with Japan. If the new cabinet has been organized with a view to maintaining the international balance and maintaining the status quo, the way is open for the creation of more amicable relations."

U. S. ENVOY STAYS IN MOSCOW BUT STAFF GOES EAST

MOSCOW, July 18 (AP).—United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt and the chief members of his staff remained in Moscow today while some embassy personnel proceeded to Kazan, capital of the Tartar republic on the Volga river, 450 miles eastward.

Three junior officers and nine clerks left by train last night for Kazan and their departure was desecribed as a normal wartime precautionary measure.

Remaining in Moscow with Steinhardt were Walter Thurston, counsellor of embassy; Maj. Ivan Yeaton, military attaché, and several other officers.

The ambassador conferred this afternoon with S. A. Lozovsky, deputy foreign commissar.

19,000 Italians Surrender to Belgians in Ethiopia

Washington, D. C., July 18 [Special].—A total of 19,000 Italian officers and men in southern Ethiopia have surrendered to a Belgian force, according to a message received today by the Belgian embassy. The prisoners included three generals. Three Belgian battalions attacked the Italians on July 3 in the region south of the Blue Nile.

[As this was being announced in Washington an authoritative source in London revealed the British campaign in Italian East Africa crushed an army of 325,000, of whom 126,000 were Italians and the rest natives. This source said 100,000 Italians were captured, 6,000 are still at large, and the rest are dead, while 60,000 natives were captured and the others deserted or were killed.]

EXILED REGIME OF CZECHS SIGNS PACT WITH REDS

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Czecho-Slovak military units, operating under the Red army high command, will fight against Germany, it was agreed in a mutual aid and support treaty signed by representatives of soviet Russia and the refugee government of Czecho-Slovakia at the Russian embassy here today.

Pledging support "in every way against Hitlerite Germany," the agreement provided for an exchange of ministers and was effective immediately after signing and not subject to ratification. The military units are to be formed with a commander appointed by the refugee government, it was said.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky and Dr. Jan Masaryk, Czecho-Slovak foreign minister in exile, signed the treaty.

Britain also moved closer to the exiled Czecho-Slovak government. Foreign Minister Anthony Eden notified Masaryk of the British government's decision to accord "full recognition" to the regimé here, headed by former President Eduard Benes.

It was announced that Philip Bouverie Bowyer Nichols had been appointed British minister to the Czecho-Slovak republic.

RIFLE PROBLEM HAS BEEN SOLVED, PATTERSON SAYS

Springfield, Mass., July 18 [Special].—The official visit to Springfield armory of Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson was stymied tonight when his airplane could not land at the new northeastern army base, Westover field, because of inadequate lighting facilities. His plane circled Westover field several times, but finally was forced to head back for New York.

Patterson's address, scheduled to be delivered over a nation-wide hookup, was read by Maj. Kenneth Campbell of the ordnance department. The undersecretary disclosed that the American army is being equipped with the new Garand semiautomatic rifles, which will give the troops a striking power beyond that of any army ever raised in this country. "Right now we have 200,000 Garands with the troops," he said. "It will be only a few months before every soldier authorized to carry one will have one of these rifles."

Mrs. Taft and Rep. Johns to Speak Against War

Milwaukee, Wis., July 18 [Special].—Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of Senator Robert Taft [R., O.], and Joshua L. Johns, congressman from the eighth Wisconsin district, will speak against American intervention in the European war at Milwaukee auditorium Monday night. The meeting is sponsored by the America First committee.

STORY OF AN EARL WHO GAVE HIS LIFE SNUFFING BOMBS

Britain Honors Peer Who Led Disposal Squad.

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Behind a few lines published in the official London Gazette tonight, announcing the posthumous award of the George cross to the late earl of Suffolk and Berkshire, lay the story of Britain's most unusual bomb disposal squad.

The 35 year old earl, his 28 year old girl secretary, and six other members of the squad were killed by a delayed action bomb last May.

A 60 year old cockney, known only as "Pop," who had followed the earl on many a successful job, told last May how the crew worked, but publication of Pop's story was not then permissible. Now it is.

Bore a 300 Year Old Title.

"It's not often you see a man with a 300 year old title out diggin' for bombs," he said. "But the young earl went right after 'em.

"He had a pretty secretary. She waited in the car at what they thought was a safe distance. He would string a telephone line from the car to the bombs and dictate technical notes about the job while he worked."

The earl's cold blooded interest in bombs was largely scientific. He was chief field research and experimental officer at the ministry of supply, and collected much data for the use of future bomb disposal squads.

Dictated as He Worked.

"When he was out on a job he always smoked a cigaret in a long holder," Pop continued.

"He'd keep on smoking until he was almost up to the bomb, and then would hand it to somebody and say, 'Hold this a minute,' and tackle the bomb.

"You never could tell by watching him that he was playing with death. He talked as he worked, dictating fairly fast.

"He always told us that if anything happened to him he wanted others to have the benefit of his experience. He was a real gentleman, he was."

FILM COMPANY PLACES A BAN ON PROPAGANDA

War propaganda has been banished from motion pictures released by Paramount Pictures, Inc., because the public does not want it. This statement was made yesterday by Neil F. Agnew, vice president and general sales manager, at a sales conference at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

"It's purely a matter of dollars and cents," said Agnew. "The public has shown it does not want propaganda on the screen. It would be suicidal to try to give the people something they do not want. So far as Paramount is concerned there will be no propaganda in its pictures. The purpose of the screen is to entertain, and the public has indicated its desire."

A charge that motion pictures were filled with pro-war propaganda was made by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] in a speech at Salt Lake City, Utah, on April 16.

"At present," said Wheeler then, "the motion pictures and news reel apparently are produced with the desire to incite the American people to demand war. They are cleverly directed for passion arousing effect and to bring an overwhelming call for convoys."

PLAN TO BOOST SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES REPORTED

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The possibility of heavy increases in social security taxes, to help head off inflation and to make more millions available for preparedness financing, was reported to be under discussion today by treasury and social security officials.

Some were declared to favor increasing the present 1 per cent tax on employers and employés to 3 or 5 per cent. They said raising the rates was one way of draining off money which people might spend in ways that could cause inflation.

The experts said because of the arms program more persons earn more than ever before while government orders and priorities are cutting the volume of goods which the public can buy. They fear people will bid against each other for merchandise and push up the prices to inflationary levels.

U. S. to Extend Axis Blacklist; Nazis Rap 'Dollar Warfare'

Japs May Be Hit

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The economic offensive by the United States against the axis assumed world wide proportions today as officials disclosed plans for blacklisting more companies deemed to be acting for the benefit of Germany and Italy.

Dean Acheson. [Acme Photo.]

The action of President Roosevelt in ordering a severance of all business relations with more than 1,800 firms and individuals in Latin America will be extended to certain firms in the far east and Europe to close all supply leaks to Germany and Italy, it was announced by Dean Acheson, assistant secretary of state.

Lists Being Prepared.

He said the government was preparing lists of firms in countries such as Japan, China, Portugal, Spain, and Sweden thru which supplies might be reaching the axis.

Acheson, economic warfare supervisor at the state department, would not indicate how soon new or amended blacklists would be issued or to what extent investigations already showed trade leaks to Germany and Italy.

Before the German attack on Russia there were reports materials from the United States and Latin America were moving thru Japan, Japanese occupied China, and Russia to Germany.

Rail Route Closed.

The war on Russia, however, has closed the trans-Siberian railway route for supplies from the far east to the axis.

Spain, Portugal, and Sweden also were believed to be negligible mediums of trade with the axis.

The Presidential proclamation, however, shut off trade not only with persons and individuals in Latin America said to be acting directly or indirectly for the benefit of Germany or Italy but also to persons to whom the exporting of materials was deemed "to be detrimental to the interests of national defense."

South America Upset

BERLIN, July 18 (AP).—The Berlin newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter featured news of United States blacklisting of 1,800 South American firms today under a front page banner line saying, "Dollar warfare against South American economy."

"Roosevelt's step is directed against citizens of free states which are not engaged in war and it originates with a government which officially also is neutral," the newspaper said.

Charge Monopoly Pressure.

Therefore, the newspaper continued, the United States "proclaims the principle that Washington, contrary to all international practices, lays down rules for other countries regarding their economic relations by using the shabbiest means of exercising pressure in order to insure a trade monopoly in South America for itself."

"Roosevelt and his colleagues," the paper charged, "imagine the future world as one ruled exclusively by the United States and its British junior partner who, possibly with the addition of the bolshevists, alone would have the right to possess fleets and air forces and control the world's raw materials."

An authorized spokesman said that President Roosevelt was acting "as tho he were already in the war."

Chile Fears Trade Effect.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 18 (AP).—A constant stream of representatives of firms on the new trade blacklist of the United States government visited the United States embassy today. Many inquired how they might be taken off the list while others protested that they had been unjustly injured. Business men did not expect publication of the list would cause any confusion in the sale of United States products, especially automobiles, because new agents had long been prepared to take over.

Finance Minister Guillermo Del Pedregal, who has been Chile's chief negotiator of United States Export-Import bank credits, declared the list "is going to cause some difficulties in our commerce."

Brazilian Firms Resentful.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 18 (AP).—While resentment was expressed today by Brazilian firms blacklisted by the United States for dealing with Germany, the United States embassy said some already listed might be removed and others probably would be added after further investigation.

Embassy informants stressed that by issuance of the blacklist, United States companies can turn over their agencies and representations to other Brazilian firms.

Argentine Government Silent.

BUENOS AIRES, July 18 (AP).—The Argentine government was silent today on President Roosevelt's blacklist of firms deemed to be acting for the axis, but the pro-Nazi section of the press attacked it as infringing on Argentine sovereignty.

The liberal newspaper Critica said it was "interesting to note that the names of local directors in the blacklisted firms include numerous rightist politicians and others high in politics and the army."

A consignment of four thousand cases of vermouth destined for the United States was left on the docks by the Moore-McCormack lines because it was a product of Martini & Rossi.

27 JAP PLANES BOMB CHUNGKING AFTER 8 DAY LULL

CHUNGKING, China, July 18 (AP).—After an eight day respite, Japanese planes returned today to this Chinese capital for their 20th raid of the season. Twenty-seven planes, unchallenged except by anti-aircraft fire, dropped light and heavy bombs and incendiaries.

One of the heaviest bombs hit the compound where the press hostel is situated, digging a big crater where a thatched house had stood. The press hostel dugout received two direct hits without casualties.

Bombs also fell all around the Chialing house, Chungking's leading hotel. It was slightly damaged.

Italy to Shut Off Gasoline for Private Autos on Oct. 1

ROME, July 18 (AP).—The Italian government today canceled all gasoline rations for private automobiles effective Oct. 1 to preserve supplies for the armed forces and public services because of "growing difficulty" in obtaining rubber and gasoline.

13 STATE FARM OFFICIALS FIGHT U. S. PRICE FIXING

Demand Return Equal to Industry and Labor.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Agricultural leaders of 15 states protested today against any governmental attempt to put a ceiling on farm prices at or near present levels.

J. Roy Jones, president of the National Association of State Farm Officials, presented the mass protest at a senate subcommittee inquiry into farm prices and proposed price fixing.

Jones, South Carolina commissioner of agriculture, commerce, and industries, testified that recent price ceilings on cotton yarn, ordered by Leon Henderson, defense price administrator, "cost the farmers of the south millions of dollars, for the cotton market broke about $2 a bale immediately after this was done."

[Story of Henderson's proposal for a 4 cent increase in the price ceiling of cotton print cloth appears on page 17.]

Demands "Fair Return."

If prices must be fixed, Jones suggested that a floor be placed under farm products "which will assure our farmers a fair and just return for their labor in comparison with industry and labor."

Jones presented similar protests from agriculture officials of Colorado, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oregon, South Dakota, Vermont, Utah, and Washington. The subcommittee heard similar opposition earlier from agricultural commissioners of Georgia, Texas, and Wisconsin.

The witness said that as a result of government crop control, benefit payment, and loan programs, farmers now depend "almost wholly and solely on laws and regulations emanating from Washington." He added:

"If our farmers are told that they can raise only so many bales of cotton, they feel that the same government who places this restriction, should, likewise, give them adequate protection for the sale of their agricultural products."

Raise Funds for Court Fight.

Falls City, Neb., July 18 [Special].—One thousand farmers from four southeastern Nebraska counties and Brown county, Kansas, attended a meeting here last night at which AAA wheat quota restrictions were denounced.

U. S. Renne of Sycamore, Neb., called the AAA referendum "un-American" because noncoöperators were not included on election boards. Urging farmers to combat "this imperialistic law" in the courts, he described the 49 cent penalty as "confiscatory."

The farmers booed one member of the Richardson county AAA committee who attempted to explain the regulations.

The farmers contributed $300 to a $2,000 fund being raised to fight the AAA in a court test case.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR ILLINOIS AND CHICAGO

Save Our Republic

THE SPORT OF KINGS.

Gov. Green, who has before him the bill to legalize handbook gambling in Illinois, no doubt found cause for thought in a story in his morning paper Thursday. It told of the arrest in Chicago of a Lancaster, Pa., bank bookkeeper who had embezzled $307,000 in the last eight years. Of this, the embezzler estimated, a quarter of a million dollars went into bets on slow horses.

The Chicago bookies missed this lush client, who did his betting in and about his home town. From time to time, however, they have been favored by the patronage of less spectacular embezzlers, including a number who got the wherewithal from the tills of public offices.

The effect of open and easily accessible gambling houses on the embezzlement rate in a community is not the only factor to be considered in weighing a proposal to legalize gambling, but it is a considerable one. A measure that makes gambling legal and semirespectable will inevitably increase the amount of gambling, and the frailty of humans will do the rest.

We do not believe it possible to wipe out gambling. The instinct to gamble is too deeply rooted. It is possible, however, to minimize its ill effects by making it as difficult as possible to place a bet. That is certainly not the intent, nor would it be the effect, of the bookie license bill.

People who talk about the "injustice" of forbidding betting in handbooks while the law sanctions it at racetracks may accomplish an end that they do not have in mind. If they talk long enough they will impress on the public the simple and obvious fact that the easiest way to stop illegal gambling in handbooks is to make gambling illegal at the racetracks.

Everything that can be said against handbook gambling can be said, with little or no modification, against racetrack gambling. It is a shady business, and while it is stretching the truth to say that there are no honest horse owners, there are certainly not too many honest horse races. The mutuel departments of some of the tracks about Chicago have been overlooking a business opportunity this year. They could run a pool as to whether the next race would be on the level.

Winners would get pretty good odds, too.

Horse racing has outlived its sole claim to usefulness, which was that it improved the breed of cavalry remounts. That is being done in the General Motors laboratories these days. Horse tracks are primarily gambling houses. They couldn't continue to exist except as gambling houses, and the illicit gambling houses away from the tracks couldn't operate on anything approaching the present scale if the pari-mutuels didn't exist to set their odds for them.

SHAKEUP AT ST. CHARLES.

A change in the management of the institution for juvenile offenders near St. Charles has been ordered after a conference between Gov. Green and Rodney Brandon, the state's director of welfare. The shakeup followed by a few days the atrocious murder which young Wesolik committed while on parole and by a few hours the escape from the institution of a couple of young toughs.

If the change in management indicates a determination to safeguard the people of Illinois, and particularly the people of the western suburbs, the change will be welcome. The public will not be satisfied, however, by a mere transfer of the direction of the institution from one man to another. The evil is a real one and it will not be removed by the discovery of a scapegoat in the person of the former director. There must be no more escapes. There must be no more paroling of potential murderers.

THE COUNTY HOLDS THE BAG.

Gov. Green has vetoed a bill allowing the Cook county government to issue $4,000,000 in bonds to pay off judgments obtained by the city government of Chicago for costs of the Municipal court. He accompanied his veto with some sound advice on municipalities paying their current expenses out of current revenue.

The governor's position would be more consistent if he had not recently signed bills permitting downstate governments to pay, with bond issue proceeds, judgments incurred by their failure to pay operating expenses, but his advice is, nevertheless, sound. This will be small comfort to the harassed Cook county commissioners, who have passed the point where they can take advantage of it.

They are wasting money, some of it unwillingly thru the failure of the Circuit court judges to cut swollen pay rolls in county fee offices, but they cannot salvage enough to pay the city's judgment, recently sold to private holders. The immediate result of the veto will be to increase the county's interest costs by some $120,000 a year, since the judgment draws 5 per cent interest and bonds could be sold at a lower rate.

In its claim the city has the law on its side, but little justice. There is no good reason why county taxpayers living outside Chicago should help support a Chicago court. The burden was placed on the county by a law put thru in 1932 by the late Mayor Cermak. The city hall forces succeeded in beating a repealer, introduced with the bond funding bill, in the recent session of the legislature.

Gov. Green could have strengthened his veto message by a reference to the disgraceful failure of Cook county authorities to collect delinquent taxes. In this the city government, a part of the same political machine, is equally to blame. Bills which would have strengthened the tax collection system measurably were submitted to the legislature and failed to pass. Had they passed, the county might reasonably have hoped to pay off the court cost judgment within a few years without resorting to a bond issue.

The tax legislation was badly mishandled. It was not introduced until late in the session. Little attempt was made to explain it to the legislators. As it developed, when the bills came to a vote, nobody of any significant political weight was for them, and they met the usual fate of measures in that predicament. The members of the Chicago Democratic machine, who have the most to gain by a tax collection program, were cold if not actively hostile. They should not expect some one else to help them out of the pit in which they have willingly placed themselves.

AMERICAN CONSCRIPTS FOR MR. CHURCHILL.

Harry Hopkins, the lend-lease administrator now in London, was given a chair at a British cabinet meeting, at a session which was described as offering "an interesting precedent." Viscount Elibank, who had been urging the inclusion of representatives of India, the dominions, and the United States in the war cabinet, seems to be getting somewhere.

It is recalled that two other nonmembers of the cabinet have been admitted to meetings since the outbreak of the war, one being Daladier when he was French premier, and the other the Australian prime minister, Mr. Menzies.

Mr. Churchill naturally makes the best of every opportunity to put the United States on the footing of a full time ally fighting with the British. He has made a common front in Iceland, where British and American troops are stationed to defend that outpost of the British line. He has brought the American navy into widely extended coöperation with the British fleet. He has American vessels delivering daily cargoes to the middle east battle area.

New type American tanks are getting their workout not with the American troops but in North Africa. American bombers are constantly increasing British air power at home, and now the pretense that Americans are being conscripted for the defense of their country and of this continent is thrown aside. It has served its purpose. The conscription in this country continues tho there has been no conscription for foreign service in Canada or Australia—two countries that are actually at war.

Mr. Roosevelt is training the army which Mr. Churchill and his generals want to throw into the war, even before it is trained and equipped. Mr. Hopkins' appearance in the British cabinet meeting was more than a token. It was an acknowledgment that the British cabinet has been running the American war program from the beginning.

Gen. Marshall, the American chief of staff, in telling the members of the senate military affairs committee that the army will go to pieces if the Guardsmen and drafted men are not kept in service indefinitely, is again sounding the note of grave alarm and hinting at a great crisis which cannot be fully revealed or publicly discussed. He says the situation has greatly deteriorated within a short time and that it is far different now from what it was when the men were taken for their year's training.

Congress is to be put in the position of either giving Mr. Roosevelt an army which he can move as he pleases or exposing the country in a crisis to an unnamed disaster. This will be an army for Mr. Churchill and not for the United States.

What is the crisis which has so rapidly descended upon this country? People look about in vain to see what has happened in recent weeks or months to expose them to new and frightful perils. The American home is not endangered because the British couldn't hold Crete or because they were driven back in Libya. The Nazi invader didn't get any nearer to the American continent by those successes. He isn't approaching these shores by invading Russia.

Hitler isn't more dangerous to a Chicagoan, or even to a New Yorker, or a Bostonese, because he is trying to get to Moscow. For whatever successes the Nazi army has in that campaign, it will pay a price and it may be one not fully calculated even in the military wisdom of the German high command. Our defenses were not weakened when this great Russian war began. Hitler isn't headed for Alaska altho you may be told he is.

Gen. Marshall may have much military intelligence which is not available to the public. He refers to possibilities in Portugal and Spain, suggesting by that, no doubt, some threat to Brazil. But nothing in the admonitions given congress reveals a danger which will stand examination. They contain, however, more than intimations of what is up.

When Mr. Churchill thinks of regaining a battle front on the European continent, he thinks of American troops. British forces are fully engaged in the defense of the island and elsewhere in the defense of the empire. They are in England, Syria, Egypt, and Ethiopia. Britain's forces are fully engaged in these enterprises and they will continue to be. The British generals say that the war must be fought to its finish on German soil. The troops which will do that fighting are to be drawn from the United States. That is the problem Mr. Churchill has presented to Mr. Roosevelt, and Mr. Roosevelt has passed it on to Gen. Marshall.

The British war ministry would like to get the American troops in while Russia is still fighting. That may seem absurd, considering the condition of the American army, but similar conditions in the other war didn't prevent the use of American man power in just that fashion.

Unless congress puts a check upon Mr. Roosevelt, he will put American man power at Mr. Churchill's disposal and Mr. Churchill will use it relentlessly. The Americans who have said that this is our war and who now demand a declaration of war have played the American armed forces into the hands of the British empire and the marching orders are being issued.

The conscripts are for the invasion of Europe.

The finest stretch of street in the world, visitors say. Are they flattering their Chicago hosts or boasting that they have seen everything? Anyway, the skipper of a Dutch cargo-carrier, entering the port of Chicago for the first time, gazed upon its flood-lighted towers by night and remarked: "In effery beeg city harbor of the two hemispheres haf I been, but neffer haf I seen, from the water, anyding zo fine."

WORKING GIRL'S TEARS.

When I get up the morning, facing the day ahead,
I take the working girl's special, most sorry to leave my bed.
When I get down to the office, opening up at nine,
I take a look all around me—just another day of its kind.
All this would be too dreary if not for the hour of five,
'Cause then I drop all my wearies, and go out with a couple of guys.
Then I get up in the morning, the night before still in my eyes;
I change from my glamor girl status and don my working girl guise.
But soon comes the Great God Vacation, bringing relief from routine.
Two weeks with no I. C. station to mar my act of a queen.
No typewriter's keys to need cleaning, or carbon all over my hands—
Just night and day whiling time away on a boat, dance floor, or sands.
But now I'm back at the office; my memories must last me a year.
In the meantime I'll live for my pay check and drop a working girl's tear.

Gee-Gee.

Free Show at Auditorium.

There have been many spectacular shows in Chicago's Auditorium since it was opened in 1889, but about the showiest of all, strange to say, was free for every one.

This free performance was staged when Morris Gest brought "The Miracle" to the Auditorium. "The Miracle" had a $4.40 top price, and Gest put himself on exhibition in the lobby, a sort of lagniappe, as the 13th cookie to the dozen used to be called in New Orleans.

Perhaps he got the idea from a story they used to tell about old Jim Thornton, composer of "When You Were Sweet Sixteen." There was a long time when Jim's habits weren't of the best, but Martin Beck kept booking him over the Orpheum circuit every year, regardless. "Can't get along without you, Jim," he would say. Finally Thornton answered, "But you'll have to; some day I'll die." "When that time comes," Beck told him, "we are going to pour you back into the barrel and make a lobby display out of you."

There Gest stood day after day, $8 suit, Windsor tie, terrible velour hat. It was a treat for the box-office queue. How they loved it!

Few of the customers realized the kick that Gest was getting. He wasn't just an exhibitionist. He had made his start in the show business as a ticket speculator for "America," playing right there in the same Auditorium, in 1893. How he loved watching people flocking in to see his own show in the same building! William Shaw.

IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

From London's blighted streets and homes we come
To this still place of prayer, this shrine of fame.
In reverence, our lips and hearts are dumb.
Here are the tombs of men of splendid name.
There Nelson lies, Trafalgar's fearless knight,
And Wellington, who stopped bold Bonaparte.
Here "Chinese" Gordon, who was doomed to fight,
Tho hating war, found peace for his great heart.
Sir Christopher, who fashioned proud St. Paul's,
Built here his tomb, and here he lies at rest.
From each dim nook some honored hero calls
To loyalty in every mighty test.
And Britain heeds. Her battles will not cease
Till she has won her greater war—for peace.

Which reminds us that our only glimpse of a Fourth of July celebration this year was from the steps of the capitol building in Salt Lake City.

DRY NIGHTS IN THE NURSERY.

THE avoidance of bedwetting is best accomplished by habit training. This is not a difficult task, but it does require a moderate amount of effort on the part of parents.

In a few cases—which are the exceptions—correction of an abnormality along the urinary tract or relief of excessive acidity or alkalinity of the urine itself may be indicated. But 99 per cent of our little ones will respond naturally to good teaching.

If the bladder is unusually small, it may be enlarged by holding the flow until the tension is slightly greater than normal. There is some danger in this procedure because we should instruct our children to void whenever the impulse comes. This means that no matter where they may be, embarrassment must not be allowed to bring on so much pressure that the tubes leading from the kidneys to the bladder will dilate or that the pouch itself will become overstretched.

Encouragement will do far more than scolding. In fact, punishment has no place in treatment. The quantity of fluid allowed may be limited after 4 p. m., and one of the most successful plans that I know of involves the use of the alarm clock. This will remind the youngster to visit the toilet as a precautionary measure. After a few weeks on this program, together with water restriction, dry nights will become the rule.

By and large, our regular and persistent victims are nervous youngsters. For these patients, tiny doses of bromides or other sedative may be helpful. In some instances a combination with belladonna, which exerts a relaxing effect upon the urinary apparatus, is indicated.

Yes! Victory depends upon bladder training, altho this may come later than the establishment of regular bowel movements. Usually by the end of the 9th month the intestinal rhythm should be under control. A month or two later, however, an effort should be made to regulate urination. The baby may be placed on the toilet at two hour intervals, gradually increasing the time until optimum periods are set. Only a very few minutes—from three to five—should be allowed for each performance. Otherwise the infant may find himself so comfortable that the impulse to void will be lost.

Occasionally it is necessary to decrease liquids quite abruptly. As an experiment, the bedtime bottle may be reduced or omitted entirely, altho water or milk may be offered from a cup. In consequence, less will be taken, and hence less excreted. By the age of 15 months, the evacuation episodes, both day and night, should be well established. If junior goes to bed at 7 o'clock, it is important to take him up about 10, but he must be fully awake, otherwise the sac may not be emptied. By the age of 2 he should be able to go thru an entire night without difficulty.

But all of this cannot be accomplished without the full coöperation of father and mother. Constipation must be watched, as pressure of an overfilled rectum upon the bladder will not only narrow its space, but increase frequency. If the trouble is likely to occur early in the morning, an alarm will be useful.

Exciting play just before retiring may be responsible for restlessness, as well as for a mishap even after the child is 5 or 6. Hard sleepers are bothered more than those who awaken easily. For the child's sake, it must be made just as convenient as possible to attend to nature's call. If he is obliged to paddle down a long corridor, he may fight off the impulse, go back to sleep, and experience an accident.

After all, it is purely a question of care and attention. We are all creatures of habit, and youngsters particularly will respond to a pattern which, when once fixed, will become second nature.

HER WORLD IS CHEERFUL.

Chicago, July 15.—"Has the world been made a better place to live in?" queried Mabel B. under date of July 11 in this column. Succeeding remarks in her letter illustrated her utter doubt that it has. Live my "today" with me again, Mabel B., and see what you think of it.

My idea of "earning a quarter" is not placing a 50 cent bet on a favorite, so I harken to an alarm each morning at 7, so that I may report to my office on time and "earn" my weekly pay check. This morning was unusually cheery, and singing under the shower while the coffee pot brewing sent my spirits soaring. As I boarded the 7:55 street car on the corner, I dropped the token for my fare, which the conductor retrieved for me with a smile.

Crossing Canal street at Washington street I found officer No. 3161 most courteous and in very happy mood. The few remaining steps to my office I fairly bounced along.

The daily routine once under way, and the boss in his habitual good natured mood, events in my work-a-day world progressed rapidly in clear and logical order, leaving me with a satisfied sense of something accomplished. During the course of the afternoon, we had an unexpected visitor—the 10 year old son of one of the employes down to the office to see his dad at work. Just an ordinary kid, his smile radiated the wholesomeness of American youth, and his unaffected chatter contrasted with the gloomy forebodings of a war-weary world. If this splendid example of youth will be our manhood of tomorrow, is it any wonder that in good faith orders come thru the mails today inclosing money in advance for merchandise, sight unseen, the consumer confident of guaranteed satisfaction or money refunded?

Then I reached home, not a shrouded sanctum, but a cheerful, inviting place of clean air and decent neighbors, secure in the knowledge that tomorrow the sun will greet a better world. TWYLA.

AN ISLAND OF LIBERTY.

Dubuque, Ia., July 14.—Americans who hope to promote national unity by preserving republican institutions will find encouragement in the history of the Swiss republic. Since Aug. 1, 1291, Switzerland has survived as a contented and industrious island of liberty surrounded by a sea of despotism. The 650th anniversary of the Swiss republic should have more than passing notice, for the Swiss flag, a white cross on a red field, is a symbol of the fact that a peace loving republic without imperialistic ambitions can survive altho bounded on every side by dictator nations.

A SALESMAN'S WIFE'S WOES.

Chicago, July 17.—I am the wife of a salesman. He represents two firms. One let's him sell as much as he wants to, but, of course, they cannot deliver as they cannot buy materials. The government needs it. As to the other firm: one day he received a letter telling him, don't sell this item or that, as that's the material they cannot get. Then he's told, don't take orders on balance as the price situation is bad.

Then my son just started to work six months ago. We kept our chins up. We thought, well at least he will keep the wolf away. But that was too good to last. He came home last night and said: "Well, we're just about thru; can't get any motors." Surely we are not the only ones.

I just can't tell my children that they need guns and ammunition for England; it is food that they need when hungry.

Surely an arrangement can be made so that a man can make a living, even if they are making implements of war.

How about you fellows in Washington figuring this out for me, and plenty others? A SALESMAN'S WIFE.

WAY OPEN TO CLEAR SLUMS.

Chicago, July 16.—The effective support given by your paper to the legislation on clearance of slums and blighted areas in Chicago and your fine attitude on this important subject prompt me to express my personal thanks and appreciation and that of the Chicago Building congress.

Now that the governor's signature has made reconstruction possible, it will be more than interesting to see how far the leaders in Chicago will go toward doing the fine things that are possible under this bill.

This subject is close to my heart and I have given much time and thought to it. I was born here and want very much to see Chicago become the fine place to live in which it may become if its intelligent people will do what should be their pleasant duty.

The people of Chicago should be grateful to you.

A "BACK TO ENGLAND" DRIVE.

Chicago, July 17.—Why should we Americans be subjected to criticism because some of us 80 per cent do not want our boys to go overseas?

Col. Wedgwood has said this is our war and belittles Senator Wheeler and all whom he calls "appeasers." I'm for sending these English dudes back to England and for a drive entitled "Back to England" for those who dare criticize our government, and Col. Wedgwood should be the first. E. H. HOGER.

FROM A SCIENTIST.

Chicago, July 17.—I want to commend you for the editorial headed "Speaking of Horrors." It is an excellent presentation of the case and does great credit to your insight into this problem. We who have been concerned with this difficulty for so many years—more than 30, in my case—sometimes get discouraged and wonder if the public really cares. Then when we get such a tribute from intelligent laity it is like a transfusion to a dying man.

Only thru the coöperation and support of the press can we ever hope to get an adequate presentation of our case. We have too many other pressing demands on our time to be able to spend much of it in the propaganda ballyhoo for which the "anti's" seem to have so much time.

SANTA MARIA NEEDS REPAIR.

O'Keeffe School, Chicago, July 17.—Recently our class was studying history and the topic of the Santa Maria came up. We were discussing the Santa Maria, which is in the Jackson park boat harbor. The ship is not seaworthy any more so the people who want to go upon it cannot. It seems a pity that a ship which can be fixed is not, since it is a replica of the Santa Maria. We thought that if it's possible the schools of Chicago would start a penny collection to repair this ship. ROSLYN BROWN,

A BILLION ANCESTORS.

A note with A. R. White's letter in this column yesterday mentioned that a person now living, is descended from about a million ancestors living at the time of William the Conqueror, if it be assumed that there was no in-breeding and that a new generation appears every 30 years. The figure should have been one billion instead of one million. Where did they all come from? There weren't that many persons in the world in the 11th century.

THE LAST STRONGHOLD

BILL FOR REHIRING OF SERVICE MEN SIGNED BY GREEN

Law Provides Court Appeal in Case of Refusal.

Springfield, Ill., July 18 (AP).—The Keller bill requiring employers to rehire their employés after completion of military service was signed into law today by Gov. Green.

Under terms of the law, introduced by Representative Nick Keller [R., Waukegan], employés would be entitled to return to their jobs without loss of seniority if they apply within 40 days after they have been honorably discharged or rejected for lack of necessary qualifications. Appeals may be taken to the Circuit or Superior courts if employers refuse to rehire employés.

The law provides an employer need rehire only one employé for each position. This provision was inserted because of the possibility several men might have held the same job and each been drafted in turn. The job would go to the man who left first for military service.

County Workers to Keep Posts.

Other bills among the 41 measures signed by the governor included a series sponsored by Representative Charles Clabaugh [R., Champaign] declaring that county officials need not forfeit their public posts if they leave for military service. The bills cover sheriffs, county superintendents of schools, coroners, treasurers, recorders, court clerks, and county clerks.

Attorney General George F. Barrett has ruled state's attorneys need not resign to enter military service.

Among four bills vetoed was the Baker bill [SB534] which would have validated acts by boards of supervisors in attempting to comply with county zoning laws. The veto message said the bill apparently was an effort to overcome a Supreme court decision in the case of Winnebago county against Cannell. Other vetoes involved bill duplications.

Other Measures Approved.

Bills approved by the governor included:

T. P. Gunning—Continues Sheridan Training school commission.

A. P. Benson [13 bills]—Restores certificates without examination to professional persons and tradesmen after military service.

Thompson—$26,500 appropriation for improvements at Fort Massac state park.

Mundy-Edwards—Blind pension payments to be monthly instead of quarterly.

Kaindl—Provides that canvass of primary election votes shall not be affected by death of candidate on day of election or before. If dead man is elected the vacancy shall be filled by senatorial committee.

JURY WILL GET FIESTER SLAYING EVIDENCE TODAY

Watseka, Ill., July 18 [Special].—Arguments were completed tonight in the trial of Robert Fiester, 55 year old Woodland farmer, charged with the murder of his niece, Royalene Hinkle, 26, whose body was found with that of her lover, Lowell Gray, 25, in their farm home last March 28.

Closing argument for the defense was given by former Circuit Judge Claude N. Saum, who said that in all of his 45 years of practice he had never seen a case in which evidence pointed less toward guilt, and who laid contradictions made by Fiester on the witness stand to a "poor memory" and to the stress of the trial.

State's Attorney A. Fred Kendall said the murder-suicide theory presented by the defense had been exploded by the absence of any finger prints except Fiester's on the rifle with which Miss Hinkle and Gray were slain. Judge Roscoe C. South said instructions will be given the jury tomorrow.

HOLDUP KILLER OF 2 SENTENCED TO DIE IN CHAIR

Earl Parks, 26 years old, colored, an ex-convict, was sentenced yesterday by Judge John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court to die in the electric chair Oct. 24 after he pleaded guilty to two holdup murder charges, a rape charge, and several robbery charges.

Parks confessed he shot and killed Lawrence Murphy, 27, of Gary, in a robbery attempt in Jackson park on May 21. Two companions with Parks also pleaded guilty to the murder charge and were sentenced to the penitentiary. They are William Lee, 20, who got 30 years in prison, and Charles Hill, 23, sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary. Both are colored.

Parks also admitted slaying Gustaf R. Lindblom, 65, of 7111 Langley avenue, on April 26.

Three Other Unions Chartered.

According to Crawford, the furniture and drug local unions which Caldwell chartered had less than a dozen members each and the shoe clerks only about 60.

"No effort was made to organize these trades," said Crawford. "Merchants have told me they had to pay considerable sums, ostensibly in attorneys' fees, to keep from having wildcat strikes called against them. It was a lucrative trade for the union officials. Nobody knows the Caldwell income, but it must, with such sidelines, have been enormous."

Coulter asked Caldwell about his failure to organize the three types of stores and was crossly told the local boss was "too busy" to tell him.

REPORTS KILLER ABOVE AVERAGE IN INTELLIGENCE

Bernard [Knifey] Sawicki, 19 years old, who killed four persons while on parole from the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, was depicted by a Criminal court psychiatrist yesterday as being of higher than average intelligence, but devoid of any emotion or sense of morality.

The report was made by Dr. William H. Haines, acting director of the Criminal court behavior clinic. It will be presented to Judge Grover C. Niemeyer on Monday, when a date is to be set for Sawicki's trial on charges of murder in connection with three of the four slayings. Answers the youth made to Dr. Haines' questions revealed his calloused attitude.

Asked how he felt about the slayings, Sawicki replied: "There's no sensation in killing rabbits." He also said he felt no indictment should have been voted against him for the killing of Charles Kwasinski, 17, a pal from the Illinois training school. "Killing a rat shoudn't count in court," Sawicki told Dr. Haines.

CIO WELCOMES VANDAL BACK FROM U. S. PRISON

New York, July 18 [Special].—Cheers and flowers greeted Joseph Winogradsky, vice president of the CIO International Fur and Leather Workers' union when he returned from the federal penitentiary at Danbury, Conn., where he served a year.

The furriers wanted to hold an open air reception for him in the heart of the fur district but they couldn't get a police permit. So about 200 followed Winogradsky to union headquarters. There he announced he would continue his job of seeing that "chiselers in the industry don't get away with anything."

"The union," he asserted, "has a big job ahead of it to organize the American public and see that it gives full support to the soviet."

His followers cheered.

Winogradsky was sentenced for tossing stench bombs, smashing windows, raiding shops and assaulting workers.

HOW U. S. TAXES ON BOOKIES ARE SENT UP, UP, UP!

Gambler's Protest Bares 'Smoking Out' Process.

Computing income taxes is simple if you operate an illicit business and take care not to preserve the incriminating evidence of account books. The treasury simply charges you the same as your neighbors in the same business.

This system, used for many years in calculating the taxes of horse race handbook owners, came to light yesterday when it was learned that Charles Fischetti, a former operator of a de luxe handbook on the second floor at 139 North Wabash and a former Capone bodyguard, had filed a petition before the board of tax appeals in Washington, D. C., protesting against the rates current in Chicago.

Government Lists Estimates.

Fischetti reported a taxable income of $24,329 in 1936 and $29,558 in 1937. The government claimed that in the absence of records and on the basis of the earnings of other loop bookies he should have reported $82,587 in 1936 and $120,936 in 1937. The bureau of internal revenue wants its tax on the difference of $149,636.

Altho internal revenue agents do not talk about such things it is well known that by raising the earnings of a man's competitor the tax rates on such businesses become higher and higher—a process known as "smoking out." It has two effects, both of them favorably regarded by the government—it encourages bookkeeping and it discourages illicit business enterprises.

Sources in the United States courthouse say Fischetti is the first handbook owner to rebel against the time honored system. To support his complaint he cited figures compiled without the aid of formal accounts.

Reports $170,953 Paid Out.

These, listed in the petition, purport to show that the bureau of internal revenue calculated his income on the basis of his gross income from the handbook. The petition argues that no account was taken of the fact that the handbook paid out $170,953 to successful betters in the two years.

The petition also listed other expenses which the bureau had not allowed. These included: Salary to Jack Guzik, $10,000 for two years; cost of cooling system, $8,050; legal expenses, $7,200; remodeling, $1,352; losses on hedges, $7,116, and outside pay roll, $2,186.

The Jack Guzik of the petition is not identified, but he is believed to be the notorious former henchman of the Capone brothers. Rumors along Randolph street say that he shook Fischetti down each year under the pretext that he could guarantee the handbook immunity from police raids.

64 Arrested in Handbook Raid; Two Women Freed

A police squad commanded by Capt. Thomas J. Duffy raided a handbook at 738 South Dearborn street yesterday and arrested 64 persons. Two women bettors were freed, but all male patrons were taken to the police building and charged with being inmates of a gambling house. Four men were booked as keepers. Capt. Duffy said he was informed the place was conducted by James Mondi, known as an associate member of the syndicate captained by Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti.

Macon, Ga., July 18 [Special].—Edna Frances Miller, age 2½, was crying today over the loss of her front teeth and bruises, but she was very lucky at that. She had been knocked between the rails and suffered only minor hurts.

PAROLEE FACES ARRAIGNMENT IN SLAYING TODAY

Richard M. Wesolik.

Richard Martin Wesolik, parolee from the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, was returned last evening to Woodstock where on Monday he beat to death Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37 years old, wife of the farmer who sponsored his parole. Wesolik, who is 16, was captured Wednesday night in Belleville, Ill., to which he had fled to seek refuge in the home of a brother. He will be arraigned at 10 a. m. today before Police Magistrate Grant Nolan.

He was brought back by Sheriff Lester Edinger, three deputies, and State's Attorney William M. Carroll of McHenry county. Carroll has announced he will seek the death penalty against Wesolik. The parolee has confessed he killed Mrs. Jung when she intimated she might send him back to the training school because he had stayed out late at night.

Shortly after Wesolik's return the Woodstock city council passed a resolution directing City Attorney Theodore L. Hamer to write to Gov. Green asking that the parole system at the school be tightened so that in the future vicious inmates will not be turned loose to rob and murder.

MAYOR TO QUERY ILL POLICE CHIEF IN FLIGHT PUZZLE

Found in Duluth Hospital as Rumors Multiply.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 18 [Special].—Mayor Marvin L. Kline announced tonight that he will go to Duluth in an attempt to learn directly from Edward B. Hansen what prompted his abrupt and mysterious resignation as Minneapolis police chief after a tenure of only nine days.

The Hennepin county grand jury was reported considering an investigation of the strange situation which has caused a furor here. Virtually every one of a multitude of rumors have linked Hansen's action with this city's powerful underworld.

Missing since he walked out on his job Wednesday, Hansen was located today in a hospital in Duluth, his home city, where he formerly was chief of police. His personal physician, Dr. Harry Klein, reported him seriously ill and was emphatic in his assertions that the patient could not see any one except his wife and son.

Won't Discuss Illness.

Dr. Klein made a point of denying a late rumor that Hansen had been shot. The doctor would not discuss Hansen's illness other than to say that he must have complete quiet and rest for several days.

Among reports being circulated were those that Hansen had suffered a physical and mental breakdown, that an old injury incurred in an automobile accident 15 years ago was causing him trouble, and that he had been warned to "get out of town and keep your mouth shut," but there was no confirmation of any of these.

Mayor Kline said he confidently expects that Hansen will come back to his post here, but admitted that the affair is "stranger than fiction." He said he had not been given any reason for Hansen's abrupt departure—not even from Mrs. Hansen when she telephoned him to say that her husband was in a hospital there.

Mayor Fights Underworld.

"This thing will pass, however," the mayor said, "and then we will be able to proceed upon our program to crack the hold of the crowd here which has had its finger in politics and the public life of Minneapolis for years.

"I have set out to crack the power of the underworld mob that has throttled enterprise in Minneapolis since the horse and buggy days."

Following the mayor's announcement Inspector Frank Bleed ordered the police to "close the city and keep it closed." His order referred to all gambling places and devices, including dice games, punchboards, slot machines, and extended also to the sale of liquor in unlicensed places.

The mayor, youthful and new in office, was elected on a reform platform. In selecting Hansen as his police chief, he followed a recommendation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Hansen having attended the FBI police school in Washington. It is reported that since Kline took office, two powerful underworld groups have been fighting each other for control of the city's gambling and liquor rackets.

SWISS FUGITIVE SEIZED IN WEST; FACES RETURN

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 18 (AP).—Police jailed Francois Antone Wagner, 30 year old German-Swiss, today on a Swiss warrant which charged that he, as general manager for Jacob Isler & Co., Ltd., food exporters, fled Switzerland in August, 1940, with 120,000 francs [about $30,000] in company money. He was held for illegal entry and as a fugitive from justice.

The warrant stated Wagner went to South America on a valid passport but later entered the United States at New York without proper credentials.

Assistant Police Chief S. H. Anderson said Wagner cabled $20,000 from Geneva for deposit in two New York banks. He was located when, after foreign credits were frozen, he sought to get the money. Extradition papers for Wagner's return are being prepared.

Both denied the charges, which were made in federal court.

Judge Green, who heard their story last Tuesday, presented the license in the Shakespeare avenue court. In exchange for the license, Kenneth promised Capt. Pawlowski, "I'll never break another window on Halloween."

At the Des Plaines street station, Judge Green presented a license to William Edward Marsh Jr., 13, for his dog, Buster, purchased with money contributed by the Des Plaines policemen. However, the judge cautioned William to "save his pennies" for next year's license.

FORESTS ABLAZE; SOUND CALL FOR FIRE FIGHTERS

Seattle, Wash., July 18 (AP).—A shortage of fire fighters was reported today in Pacific northwest forests, where the situation is serious because of the prolonged dry spell.

In Salem, Ore., sound trucks toured the streets calling for fire fighters to supplement CCC forces battling flames set by lightning in the Detroit Ranger district of the Willamette national forest.

Officials of the Wenatchee, Wash., national forest said only 300 men, when 1,000 were needed, were fighting 50 fires, 5 of them out of control. A crew of 400 men with tractors and 10,000 feet of hose battled flames northeast of Berlin, Ore.

Eight deaths were attributed to the heat in Oregon, and one in Washington this week.

Yesterday the sheriff reported he had been traced thru Nashville, Ill., 30 miles from his farm, and Bruceville, Ind., 25 miles south of Sullivan.

WIFE DIVORCES KILLER DESPITE PLEA FROM CELL

A last minute appeal from his county jail cell by William M. Evans Jr., 25 years old, under sentence of two terms of life imprisonment for the fatal stabbing of his infant son and his mother-in-law, failed yesterday to dissuade his wife, Nedra, 22, brunette model, from divorcing him. The divorce was granted by Judge Rudolph Desort on the ground of cruelty.

Mrs. Nedra Evans.

Evans, whose wife said he had been writing her every day since his conviction, pleading with her to see him, sent a note to the judge just as the case came up for hearing. He asked the judge to permit him to talk to her in the judge's presence, but the plea was denied.

Mrs. Evans, who lives at 6723 34th street, Berwyn, obtained restoration of her maiden name, Sanders, and $700 as her share from the sale of real estate owned jointly. Her husband stabbed her son, Douglas, 2, and her mother, Mrs. William J. Sanders, last March 22 after his wife refused to abandon her intention of divorcing him.

LADY WRESTLER PUTS BITE ON A PICNIC CUT-UP

Rudolph Schodrof, 28 years old, 2239 West 50th place, a chauffeur, went on a company picnic to Cermak park in Lyons last Tuesday, but accident reports turned in yesterday to George A. Basta, chief attorney for the forest preserve district, indicated Schodrof spent most of the day in the park first aid room.

Schodrof, the reports showed, received treatment from Nurse Lillian Gray, in the following order:

1. For a cut on his left foot, incurred when he waded in the Des Plaines river.

2. For a bruised big toe on his left foot, suffered when he stumbled in a ball game.

3. For a bite on his left leg—not by a mosquito but "by a woman while wrestling."

Schodrof explained the latter injury was his fault because the woman said she would bite him if he did not let go of her during a friendly tussle. He didn't, and she did.

"I also caught a bad cold and am still hoarse," Schodrof said, "but I guess that's one that didn't show on the reports."

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, informed Ald. He said that last year when he was supplied approximately 800 men the city eradicated 905,000 rats. PRESS FREEDOM CITED IN RADIO PETITION TO FCC

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Any attempt of the federal commupications commission to prohibit newspapers or persons interested in publication of newspapers from owning or operating radio broadcast stations would be an abridgement of freedom of the press, the newspaper-radio committee told the commission today.

The American Newspaper Publishers' association previously filed a petition challenging the commission's authority and asking that the investigation be called off.

Tennis, Yacht Races, Concert Fill Week-End

BY JUDITH CASS.

THERE is no midsummer dearth of interesting social activity on the calendar for today. Many seeking excitement and relaxation will go northwest to Arlington Park and there are tennis matches at the Saddle and Cycle club and the start of the historic Mackinac race to keep others in the city this July afternoon.

Tonight the concert at Ravinia Park will attract thousands to that woodland setting. The Knollwood club is having its annual pool party tonight and more than 400 are expected to attend. There will be dancing at the pool from 9:30 until 11:30 and from that time until 2 o'clock there will be music for dancing on the clubhouse terrace, where a buffet supper will be served during the same hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferre C. Watkins, the Donald F. Boweys, the Donald S. Hoffmans, the Walter Cruttendens, the John Ladds, the John Carringtons, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beals are among those who are having parties.

Mackinac Is Week-End Mecca for Yachting Fans.

All roads will lead to Mackinac this week-end, as far as sailing enthusiasts are concerned. By car, train, and steamer yachting fans will descend on the historic little island, for which more than 60 Mackinac race entrants sail this afternoon from Belmont harbor.

Last night many a challenge was exchanged at the Chicago Yacht club's Belmont clubhouse, where the Mackinac skippers gathered for a last dinner before the start of the race. First to set sail for Mackinac Island today will be classes A and B of the universal division, which will cross the starting line at 1 o'clock. Classes A, B, C, and D of the cruising division will get off between 1:30 and 3 o'clock.

After they've waved good-by to their hosts, many of the skippers' wives will head for Mackinac themselves to be in on the end of the race and the parties which follow it. This year the exception to the rule that women can't sail in the Mackinac is Mrs. William B. Goltra, who will be part of the crew of the Aramis. The Roy Flannerys and the E. Cummings Parkers will watch the race from the Flannerys' boat.

Cruises Are Planned to Follow the Race.

Mrs. Joseph A. Moller will be waiting at Mackinac for the Tahuna, which is piloted by her husband and Henry Babson. Periodic broadcasts from the deck of the Tahuna, supplemented by ship-to-shore telephone calls, will keep the stay-at-homes in touch with the progress of the race. Also at Mackinac will be Mrs. John T. Snite, Mrs. Otto Schoenwerk, and Mrs. Victor Milliken, awaiting the arrival of Copperhead, Katinka, and Warrior, respectively, and Mrs. Robert Benedict and her daughter, Miss Faraday, pulling for Mr. Benedict's Southern Cross.

Following the Mackinac race, Commodore Milliken of the Chicago Yacht club, and Mrs. Milliken will take a three weeks' cruise back to Chicago. The Goltras, sailing the Aramis, and the Clyde Larishes, on the Wind Song, will cruise to Georgian Bay for a rendezvous with other Mackinac entrants.

Ted Lumbard's Bangalore, which won the Chicago Mackinac cup last year in the cruising division, and a Milwaukee boat, Otto Dreher's Lively Lady, which captured the Mackinac cup in the universal division, will be defending their laurels.

Chicagoans at Home Will Follow Progress of Race.

Chicagoans also will be following the progress of the Scimitar, sailed by William S. Faurot, Charles Deere Wiman, and Frederick L. Spencer; Wells Lippincott's Sovereign; the Malabar, skippered by Lincoln S. Harris, Henry L. McIntyre, and Frank E. Peirce Jr.; James R. Lowe's Manitou; Milton Friend's Betty Bro, and Chris Peterson's Batavia. Dr. Hollis E. Potter has contributed the trophies for each of the six classes.

Just when the parties for the victors will start at Mackinac is uncertain, depending, of course, on the length of the race and giving the skippers a day to sleep and recover from the strain.

The Thomas I. Underwoods, the Earl Kribbens, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, the Henry Junods, the junior Alexander H. Revells, the Herbert Stratfords, Henry Gross, Theodore S. Gary, the Herbert Stuart Stones, Gilbert Hall, the James S. Kempers, and Kenneth Carpenter are some of those who have made reservations for luncheon today or tomorrow at the Saddle and Cycle club. Following luncheon they will attend the exhibition tennis matches that have been scheduled for 2:30 o'clock each afternoon. Playing will be Bill Tilden, Fred Perry, Karel Kozeluh, and Vincent Richards. The matches are open to the public.

Reception to Be Given for Next Ravinia Conductor.

The Ravinia Festival committee and the Pan American council are collaborating on a reception to be given for Carlos Chavez from 4 until 5:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon in McKinlock court at the Art institute. Mr. Chavez is to be guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra during next week's concerts at Ravinia.

Charles H. Schweppe and his daughter, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III.; the George E. Van Hagens, the Arthur I. Appletons, Mrs. John R. Hurley, the David A. Crawfords, the John O'Connors, Addison Stillwell, Charles A. Little, the Silas H. Strawns, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes are some of those who have made reservations for luncheon at the Post and Paddock club at Arlington Park today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jarmieh Kelly are entertaining at cocktails from 5 until 7 o'clock this afternoon as a housewarming for the house they have taken for the summer at 120 Woodley road, Winnetka.

Miss Blannie Wrigley Presented to Society

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Ada Blanche Wrigley, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wrigley, made her debut last night at a dinner-dance at Hillcroft, her parents' summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Miss Wrigley Introduced at Dinner-Dance

It looked for awhile yesterday afternoon as if the al fresco dinner-dance that Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wrigley had planned as their daughter, Ada Blanche's, formal introduction to society would have to become an indoor party, but, fortunately, it was discovered that enough tents could be obtained to cover all the pretty tables that had been set on the lawn between the house and the lake.

The setting for the debut was Hillcroft, the Wrigley summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis., where last night's bud has spent the summers ever since she was born. Nothing worse than high winds and threatening skies developed, so even the tents were not necessities, but they were reassuring to those who feared rain all during the evening.

The debutante, always called Blannie by her family and friends, was lovely in pale peachy-pink satin, the off the shoulder décolletage and bottom of the flaring skirt accented with garlands of chiffon of the same shade and roses. She carried a sheaf of white orchids. She and her mother and father and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bert L. Atwater, received on the veranda against a screen of evergreens and white lilies. Mrs. Wrigley wore pale rosy beige chiffon, skillfully draped, and a jacket of summer ermine. Mrs. Atwater wore a printed chiffon of white and royal blue, and white orchids.

Miss "Deedee" Wrigley, the subdeb of the family, was charming in white net dotted in turquoise blue and with a wide border of the blue around the bottom of the full skirt. In her hair was a coronet of tiny pink roses. Mrs. Wrigley Offield, whose husband is a cousin of the debutante, wore a rose and green and white printed chintz with a yoke of white organdy. White gladioli were in her hair.

The tables were decorated with pools of water in which there were miniature yachts, corn flowers and water lilies. The guests included not only contemporaries of the bud, but of her parents and of her grandparents. Her paternal grandmother, Mrs. William Wrigley Jr., was not there, however, for she still is at her California home. Her home, Green Gables, which adjoins Hillcroft, was opened for the occasion, though, and housed a group of young people including debutantes Diana Hill, Frances Clow, Lee Cudahy, Anne Ryerson, Bessie Cowles, Dudley Winston, Eleanor Cochran, Lana Jelke, Anne Boswell, Mary Cornelia Aldis, Betty Bennett, Louise Strawn, and Cynthia Gooding.

Tonight Miss Barbara Wakeley is giving a party at the Lake Geneva Country club for Miss Wrigley. Miss Wakeley and Miss Wrigley will room together at Vassar college next year when both will be freshmen.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, July 18.—The way Sam Goldwyn has been talking, there mayn't be much baseball in his projected picture biography of Lou Gehrig. Sam has been talking about a lot of football stuff, because Lou also played football when he was in college. . . . Hollywood has thought of a new phrase—the Hemisphere Première which sounds cozier and more in keeping with the times than World Première. First Hemisphere Première will be the Ottawa showing of the Warners' London-made "The Prime Minister," on Aug. 13. It's going to be quite a shindig, with a short-wave radio speech from Queen Elizabeth herself. . . . Speaking of Canada, Mike Curtiz is up there making "Captains of the Clouds," and one of his associates wires that Mike is being besieged by Hollywood-struck Indians. "Taciturn, impassive Indian myth," he telegraphs. "Romantic red men yearn for love scenes." . . . Walt Disney has new plans for combining a regular movie and cartooning in the most interesting way yet. . . . Ain't this Hollywood for you? Jane Withers, out of "Small Town Deb" for two or three days because of tonsilitis, will have the tonsils removed when shooting is over. And, to keep her company, Jo Rainey, mother Withers' secretary, will have hers out at the same time.

Set story: Mervyn Le Roy is rehearsing Marsha Hunt and William Orr in "New York Story," and Edward Arnold is sitting on the sidelines waiting for the next scene and chuckling to himself. "What's funny?" I query. "Me," he says. "Me—playing the menace to Edward G. Robinson!" And so he is. Robinson is playing a newspaper editor and publisher—as nearly as I could gather, a sort of combination Harold Ross and Bernarr Macfadden. He has come back from editing "The Stars and Stripes" [only they don't call it that] in World war No. 1 and has started a rip-snorting scandal sheet in New York Arnold, a mobster, muscles in. I believe Robinson finally has to kill him.

I ask Le Roy what he is doing with his characters in this newspaper story. "I am being very careful," he says. "They all will be believable. Nothing fantastic." And then he laughs. "You know," he says, "the story was written by Gene Fowler, who used to be a reporter himself once. If I tried to put a fantastic character like Gene on the screen I'd be accused of not being true to life."

Lillian Albertson, many years ago Broadway's most noted woman producer, is teaching actors out here. Her newest find, brought to her by Everett Crosby, is a young Italian headwaiter. She says he'll be another Charles Boyer. Right now he is mastering English and Shakespeare at the same time. . . . As soon as "Week-end in Havana" is completed Carmen Miranda and her sister, Aurora, will head for New York.

Woman's Band Outplays High Night Winds

BY EDWARD BARRY.

To an obbligato of swirling waste paper, the Woman's Symphony orchestra presented at Grant park last night the 11th concert of the free lake front series. Leroy Shield conducted and Edna Thompson appeared as soprano soloist.

That portion of the music which was not blown immediately out to sea sounded quite good. Mr. Shield has several strings to his bow, and he does not have to depend for his effects on those two classical devices of radio conductors—a fast pace and big, bumpy accents. Sometimes he can make a phrase seem to grow of its own volition into its proper shape.

Miss Thompson is an excellent artist with a dewy, ingenue quality both in her voice and in her approach to her music. She seems to be discovering the meaning of a song herself as she goes along, and to be feeling the impact of this meaning. These facts go far to account for the freshness and the infectious quality in her singing.

The orchestra played Dvorak's "New World" symphony, a suite of ballet music from Massenet's "Le Cid," and other shorter works.

The Woman's Symphony orchestra has back with it those fugitives from dull care who barnstormed the country this spring as members of Leopold Stokowski's All-American Youth orchestra. The violinist, Helen Goldenberg, and the bass player, Mary Coleman, were seen sawing competently away in their accustomed places.

Miss Thompson did two Massenet excerpts and some small Norwegian and miscellaneous songs. She is a specialist in Scandinavian music, and is very successful in projecting that icy blue and watery gold quality of Grieg at his best.

Mr. Hargesheimer and his bride will go to Banff and Lake Louise on their wedding trip and will be at home after a month in Amherst, Mass.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

An "iced" cologne is the latest gift of a beneficent Providence to those of us who hate heat and on whom heat does its enervating worst.

There are no ice cubes floating around in the bottle. The icing is done with special ingredients which give it that lovely cooling touch, and on hot days a bit of this applied to wrists, to the fevered brow, the bend in the elbow, or that particularly troublesome spot—the underside of your knees—is almost as refreshing as a quick dip.

This is a find for invalids for two reasons. The first, of course, it is cooling and soothing. The second is that it lacks a perfume, at least in the accepted sense of that word. It's the dear old classic cologne, with no fragrance but that nice, clean suggestion of citrus. No perfume has been added. People who are ill often find even the lightest perfume too heavy; this cologne and the scent of it will be acceptable and pleasant.

Men like this, too. Since it's the good old scentless variety they can use it after exercise, shaving, or the morning tub without fear that they'll be fragrance to high heaven.

You'll recognize the name of this cologne; we may be wrong about this, but we think it's about the oldest on the market. And one of the most respected. The "icing" is a new and nice added feature.

Formula.

A patient at the Chicago Memorial hospital, C. L. Boye, relays a story from a Toronto friend: A man recently arrived from England expressed his surprise that so many old ladies remained in London and did not go to shelters during air raids. He finally asked an ancient Scotch woman if she weren't afraid. She answered, "When the sirens start, I get out my Bible and read the Twenty-third psalm. Then I get me a wee drap o'whisky to steady me nairves. Then I get into bed, pull the covers up close, shut me eyes tight and say, 'To hell with Hitler!'"

Army Camp Child.

A man back from Fort Knox tells of the officer who took his wife and young child for a ride in one of the medium tanks. He showed her all its tricks, to her intense interest, but the baby went to sleep despite the plunging and bouncing of the tank on rough terrain. That evening the child was left in charge of a caretaker, with some other camp children, while the parents went off to a social gathering. He couldn't get to sleep.

"The crickets kept me awake, mommy," reported the child who had slept during the tank trip.

Game.

For two weeks three girls who work in the Palmolive building have played a game. On the way to work, during lunch time, and after work they peer into the woman's dress shop window across the street. It's still there—the model with the run in her hose. Wearing a luscious black chiffon dress, she incongruously wore the ripped hose. Then she wore it with a gay print dress of expensive sophistication. Hair perfectly and fashionably groomed, every measurement to scale, for two weeks the model has missed perfection because of the brazen run in her stocking.

Good Morning!

Merry, romantic, screwy, and technicolorful is this new comedy with music.

Its players are popular and personable, its music catchy, its dancing snappy, and settings and costumes eye intriguing.

The slight plot has to do with the adventures in and about a swank Miami hotel experienced by a couple of sisters and their aunt. . . . The trio, formerly employed in a Texas open air hamburger service station, have inherited a brief $4,000 or so and hie them to Miami for the purpose of landing a rich husband for Kay. [Kay's idea.] . . . Sister Barbara poses as Kay's secretary. Aunt Susan plays she's Kay's maid. . . .

No sooner has the door of their luxurious hotel bungalow closed on the gay deceivers than a knock comes—and champagne is served with the complements of a gilded youth across the way [Robert Cummings] who is throwing what promises to be a practically perpetual party. . . . Young Bolton has a friend. [Don Ameche.] See how things are beginning to shape up?

The waiter who serves the champagne [Jack Haley] falls for Auntie's mature but definitely vivacious charm, and, believing Miss Kay to be rolling in wealth, promises to give her a high sign when fortune hunters appear. . . . Now you and the picture go on from here. . . .

Betty Grable and Carole Landis take exquisitely to technicolor. . . . Miss Grable's work has a few rough edges at times but she's such an enthusiastic child you can't help liking her and, as of course there's no question—Betty CAN dance. Carole Landis is smoother. . . . Charlotte Greenwood and Jack Haley furnish admirable comedy relief and Messrs. Cummings and Ameche shoulder the male leads with composure and humor.

Give the piece a whirl, why don't you?

See you tomorrow.

NEW HOUSE PAINT MADE BY DUPONT

Keeps white houses WHITER!

STARTS dazzling white because it contains brilliantly white titanium pigment!

STAYS white because it's "self-cleaning"!

Easy and fast to apply...has excellent hiding!

Looks better longer!

DU PONT House Paint keeps white houses whiter, because this brilliantly white paint is "self-cleaning." It forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot, or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it and exposing a fresh white surface. This self-cleaning process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Available in light COLORS, too!

The new Du Pont Tru-Tint formula gives you lovely light colors with the same high-value results. Like the white paint, these colors are "self-cleaning." Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints . . . is more economical because it needs fewer repaintings. Next time you paint, ask your painter to use Du Pont House Paint!

SYNOPSIS.

Kathleen Murray, New York secretary, inherits a substantial life income and a home on Lake Willow, in California, from her grandmother. She resigns her job, sublets her apartment, and goes to California to live. She meets Hugo Lang, whose play is being put on by the summer theater there. Carol Keyes is backing the production and she insists that she and her current infatuation, Maurice Reed, play the leading rôles in spite of their mediocre ability. At her own expense, Kathleen agrees to bring a talented 15 year old boy, Toby Allerton from New York to improve the cast. Kathleen finds herself falling in love with Hugo. The theme of Hugo's play is murder and his foster mother, Ellen Mount, has a small part in it. The play holds the audience tensely but Kathleen has an uncomfortable feeling about it.

INSTALMENT VI.

QUEER CHARACTER.

Kitty took an instant dislike to Stokes, and averted her eyes from his disconcerting gaze and looked at the table. He had a nervous habit of fiddling with things and one of his hands was already round the matchstand. She noted how big it was and how roughly fashioned with the ragged bitten nails and big loose knuckles.

"How did you like the play, Miss Murray?"

"I didn't like it. But it fascinated me. That's why I didn't like it."

"A strange reason." She could feel her answer had both surprised and interested him.

A man had stopped by their table to speak to Hugo. She was left alone to cope with Stokes' conversation. Her aversion to him made her argumentative.

"I don't think so. I think it would be strange if I thought it were natural to be fascinated by the spectacle of murder."

She looked up at him instinctively as she spoke. She saw his cold eyes gleam with pleasure.

"It is natural. Murder is the most fascinating study in the world. There is even an art of murder." His knotty fingers closed tightly on the matchstand. "I don't care for the rough stuff. But for the subtle. The elegant. The novel. Even the bizarre. Yes, the bizarre——"

"What might that be?" inquired Kathleen, now actively ruffled.

"O, the odd and the unusual. New and imaginative. One gets tired of the obvious things——"

Hugo turned to them as the man went and joined in the discussion.

"That's a point, Wilkie. I've thought it might be a good idea to write a murder so blatantly obvious that it looks like a plant on the murderer and so points suspicion away from him."

Stokes pursed his thin mouth. "That would be asking too much co-operation from the police. Nothing could be too blatantly obvious for them. I have a very low opinion of them."

"Of our local force, certainly."

"Turnips in uniform." Stokes' voice was distilled contempt. "Art would be wasted on them."

"You sound as if you were planning something," said Kathleen.

He looked down at his hand and uncurled his fingers. His lips moved in a tight sly smile. "Maybe I am—maybe I am," he said almost inaudibly.

Kathleen felt Hugo kick her gently under the table.

"That's fine," she said briskly. "I hope you get away with it."

He looked up at her and now he looked as sane as anybody else and his voice was normal.

"I would if I did. Or what would be the point of it?"

"And what would be the point?" Kathleen's aversion was growing, but she could not control her curiosity.

"The motive. Why should I commit murder?"

He was looking straight at her, and his light lambent eyes looked about as human as a panther's.

"You tell me," she said, feeling that gentle kick again.

"For the pleasure of outwitting the police. Not the Willowdale dunderheads, but the FBI." He put out his big knotty hand and touched Jeanie as she passed. She looked back over her shoulder. "Here, Jeanie, bring us something. What'll you have, Miss Murray?"

Kathleen chose grape juice and seltzer and the men had whisky and soda. Stokes took up the conversation where he had dropped it with such matter of factness that Kathleen wondered if she had imagined his insane manner.

"What makes murder detection so interesting today is the work done in the laboratory. Even the dust in your clothes writes a diary of your movements that these fellows are trained to read."

A big woman laughed infectiously and rose from one of the other tables. She looked round towards Hugo. He caught her eye and beckoned her over. She sat down with them. Her eyes were wrinkled at the corners as if she were always laughing at something.

Hugo introduced Kathleen to her. "And this is Mrs. Mount, Kitty. You couldn't commit a murder under her nose. She's far from a nit-wit in reality."

Kathleen was glad to be released from Stokes' attention, altho she felt Mrs. Mount was summing her up under that air of nonchalant amusement. Why should she? Couldn't Hugo have friends if he wanted to? Without her examining them with her worldly wise eyes? Kathleen was unaccustomed to this easy assault on her self-confidence.

"You took me in, Mrs. Mount. It was a fantastically good performance."

The aging actress smiled widely. "It must be very difficult to take you in, my child. You flatter me."

"That wasn't at all what I meant——"

Mrs. Mount laughed. She was always laughing off stage. She liked laughing. There was a deep gurgling note to her laughter that made people laugh with her. She did not have to have something to laugh at. There was always herself. She laughed at herself frequently.

"I know. You meant to be kind. That was very kind of you."

Kathleen felt her first hot resentment against Hugo's foster mother. "You're laughing at me now. Why should you?"

Ellen Mount drained the glass of beer she had brought with her.

"Not at you particularly, little moppet. Not necessary. The whole human race is so funny."

Hugo saw the color in Kathleen's face. He pushed his chair from the table. "Come along, Kitty. You must meet some of the others."

Maurice Reed approached as they rose. He drew Carol Keyes' hand thru his arm. "Going already?" He glanced down at Mrs. Mount. "What about you, Mountie? Want me to drive you home?"

She gave the elegant young man a mocking look. "A safe offer, since you know I have a room in the house." She got up. "And I'll be going to it. Good night, all."

Hugo introduced Carol and Maurice when she had gone. At close quarters Maurice Reed was flawlessly good looking, but his personality was negative. He seemed lifeless beside Hugo's electric vitality and decisive air of strength. Carol Keyes, however, was charming. She had an amusing scatterbrained manner and was also slightly lit. Being a mediocre actress, but brilliantly pretty, blonde, and graceful, she was more attractive off stage than on. Reed gazed at her while she talked, his eyes full of his infatuation. It was almost indecent the way he showed what he felt about her.

Hugo explained to her that Kathleen was the heiress of Lakes End and was making it her permanent home.

"Welcome to the fold, Miss Murray. What did you think of my performance?"

The others had wanted to know what she thought of the play.

"Very interesting. You'd have had a better chance if the woman had been consistent instead of repentant."

Carol turned big inquiring eyes on Hugo. "You've been talking to her," she accused.

Kathleen resented the implication that he shouldn't. "Of course. But that's an honest opinion.

Carol shrugged the bare dimpled shoulders above her organdy evening dress. The shrug turned into a shiver as the cool Pacific night breeze blew thru a window. Carol, seeing it was Jeanie who had opened the window, called to her.

"Hi, Jeanie, who told you to do that? If you must do it, run up and get my wrap."

Kathleen saw Jeanie's fresh face color with anger. She called back with spirit—"Send your trained poodle or get it yourself!"

Carol showed the naive bewilderment and hurt of an unjustly slapped child. "Well—really——!" she gasped.

Jeanie pulled the window down with a loud bang. "After all you've done for me," she shouted. "Giving me little parts and making me run your errands. What ingratitude! Too bad! Very well, fire me!"

Sunday's Paper Will List Guests for Cubs' Game

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Sunday seems pretty slow in coming around when you're waiting for party news, doesn't it, boys and girls?

All the youngsters who wrote letters for invitations to our Wrigley Field party on July 24 are waiting anxiously to learn about the list of winners, and of course, you all want to know what the next treat will be.

Well, I understand just how you feel, because sometimes it's hard for me to wait to announce parties, especially when we have an extra-special one planned.

Tomorrow's TRIBUNE will tell you all about our next good time, which I'm sure you'll like—but I won't tell you any more than that!

There were many good letters this week, but a great many of you were so excited about seeing the Chicago Cubs play Boston that you forgot all about our rules. One little boy wrote a very fine letter, but didn't sign his name.

Others forgot to include either the address or the age, and after all my warnings about the Thursday deadline, some letters came in this morning, long after the winners were chosen.

Those youngsters will be disappointed when their names are missing from the lists printed in my column tomorrow, but I think they'll soon forget about it when they see the news of our next treat. Any boy or girl who wants to come is eligible to try for an invitation, so watch for the paper boy tomorrow!

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

July 19, 1941.

Universal day—A lively day with opportunities for those who are wide awake and ready for changes.

Special numbers—Number 55 is symbolized by "The Sword" and so it works both ways—triumph and yet the danger of perishing by that same power. It is considered an important number and is the double five, the number of mental keenness. Number 65 promises happiness in marriage, but one has to be careful in using it for trips as it might cause some danger. Number 69 promises fame and honor and seems to be a favorite number. Number 70 is read as the single digit 7 would be read—a good number for all matters of study and research.

Neatness of Purse Key to All Grooming

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Today we talk about something a little different, not about the hair, skin, eyes, hands, but about a beauty matter that is equally important. It has to do with neatness of bureau drawers, pocketbooks, and underclothing.

Yes, we include underclothing. We'll take that up first, altho we mention it last. We know, for a fact, that some women are guilty of wearing unironed petticoats, or underwear that has soiled shoulder straps, or that is in need of so many stitches that it looks almost ragged. They feel, we suppose, that it doesn't make any difference how their underwear looks, for no one sees it. But alas! This undergarment sloppiness is reflected in their outward dress. Haven't you seen women who "look as tho they wore pretty underclothes?" Everything about their dresses and other outward grooming details is so letter-perfect that you do not doubt for an instant that they are that way from the skin out. It's a good impression to make, don't you think? And there's a psychological lift in it, too.

Another item we feel we must mention has to do with pocketbooks. Let's hope that you take time, at least once a week [more often, if necessary], to clean yours of all the odds and ends you've stuffed into it. But, now that summer is here and you are, perhaps, carrying a white purse, do be particularly careful that you do not smudge lipstick from your fingers onto it, won't you? Nothing looks less attractive, and it certainly detracts from the perfect grooming picture you would make.

Last, but not least, how are your bureau drawers? Do you have everything in them neatly arranged so that, when you take your wearing apparel from them, they are not mussed from being tossed in haphazardly?

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Inexperienced players find it wonderful that experts seem to know just how the unseen cards are divided and how the key honors lie. They give the expert too much credit. On most occasions he does not know any such thing. His "brilliant" card reading usually is worked out on this basis: He mentally places outstanding cards where they must be for him to make his contract. Naturally, he does not overlook the safety factor in his wishful thinking. Consider the declarer's play in the following hand:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

NORTH
♥ A Q 7
♣ J 10 8

WEST
♠ 9 7 2
♥ 6
♦ J 7 5 2
♣ A 9 5 4 3

EAST
♠ Q 10 4
♥ J 10 5 2
♦ A K 3
♣ K Q 2

SOUTH
♠ J 8 5
♥ K 9 8 4 3
♦ Q 9 4
♣ 7 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Double
Pass	2 clubs	Pass	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

East, having doubled one spade for a takeout, was afraid to raise his partner's forced club bid. Particularly at match-point duplicate, it would be fatal to run up against a double at three clubs and go down even as little as one trick. As may be seen, three clubs could have been made, but the slightest change in the North-South distribution might have wrecked a three club contract.

Against the actual two heart contract West chose to open his fourth best diamond. East cashed the ace and king and led a third round. Declarer won and started to take out trumps. The ace and queen revealed the situation, and declarer then launched a different line of attack. He led dummy's club ten. East covered with the queen and, when it held, unwisely followed with the club king. [He had nothing to lose by leading the heart jack and, as we will see, he would have gained a trick by that play.] The club king holding, a third round was led which declarer ruffed. Now, in the hope that East had started with precisely four hearts, three diamonds, three clubs and three spades, declarer cashed the heart king and threw East on lead with a heart. East's only exit was a spade. Declarer hopped up with the jack and thereby salvaged his losing spade trick.

Had East played his pack of hearts at the point mentioned, he could have avoided the final end-play. Declarer could win, of course, but if he attempted to throw East back on lead with a heart, East could exit with clubs. If declarer won and led a club, East could cash the heart ten and exit with a third club. The contract should have been defeated one trick.

The value of the soy bean as human food hasn't been recognized in this country until recently, altho the Chinese ate soy beans thousands of years ago.

The soy bean, a few years back, started spinning a dizzy career for itself as science found hundreds of new uses for it, in foods and in industry. Soy bean oil and soy bean meal are used for cooking purposes, but also go into glues, paints, plastics, explosives, billiard balls, rubber substitutes, and dozens of other commercial products.

Cookies, cakes, breads, candies, salad dressings, shortenings are only a few of the foods which may be made with soy beans. There's a delicious new little soy bean and sesame seed cocktail cracker which is being sold widely, and a soy bean wheat bread which has a nutty flavor and tastes wonderful when toasted. The bread is pretty generally available over the city now, and its cost is low, altho its food value is extremely high.

One of the most delicious meals I've ever had was eaten in the Tai Dong restaurant in Chicago's "Chinatown" recently. The day was stifling hot, but the food was so utterly delicious and so well cooked that all of us ate like gourmands. It was real Chinese food, too, not American chop suey!

I still think we American cooks should emulate the Chinese in vegetable cookery. A vegetable which still has some of its crispness left when it is served is ever so much more palatable than a soft-cooked one.

ON CAKEMAKING: If you use cake flour, you can beat the batter to your heart's content after blending the ingredients. As many as 500 strokes won't hurt a cake flour cake which contains a cup of sugar. Bread flour contains more gluten and a cake made with it will be tough if overbeaten. . . . When you use vegetable shortening or lard in a cake, don't forget the salt. You'll need to increase the amount of salt if the recipe originally called for butter. . . . When a cake recipe calls for more than a cup of sugar, best results are usually accomplished by beating a part of it into the egg whites to make a meringue which is folded into the batter last of all.

Be Indulgent About Hubby's Old Love Notes

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

Of what stuff are wives' senseless heartaches made!

Here's a woman married six years whose only charge against her mate is that he has kept old love letters received before he met the girl now his wife. She has begged and pleaded with him to destroy them, all except those SHE wrote to him, which he also preserved. But he maintains that he has the right to keep the correspondence, since most of it took place before meeting her. "He just likes them," he argues. "They're doing no one any harm!"

For almost all the six years, the wife has made it her mission to extract those epistles and see them burned, and if they were not locked away in a safe she would have taken it upon herself to destroy them without the man's consent, she tells. The fact that he wants them makes the wife extremely unhappy and it is the only reef in the marital sea but an omnipresent one.

And there you have a picture of what might well be deemed the perfect idiot of a wife, bent on destroying her own happiness.

How this wife could use a few grains of humor in her system! What a saving grace they'd be! As if you couldn't work up a discreet smile over a man saving old love letters! As if the situation couldn't be viewed as humorous enough to be delightfully generous about!

Perhaps it is just as well that real trials are visited upon the human race, upon wives particularly, just to prevent such a ridiculous situation as the one reported. Woman, we are not wishing you any trouble, believe us, but when you do encounter something that creates a real heartache, you, yourself, will wonder how you could ever have been so ridiculous as to make a mountain out of a batch of dead and gone sentimental tokens.

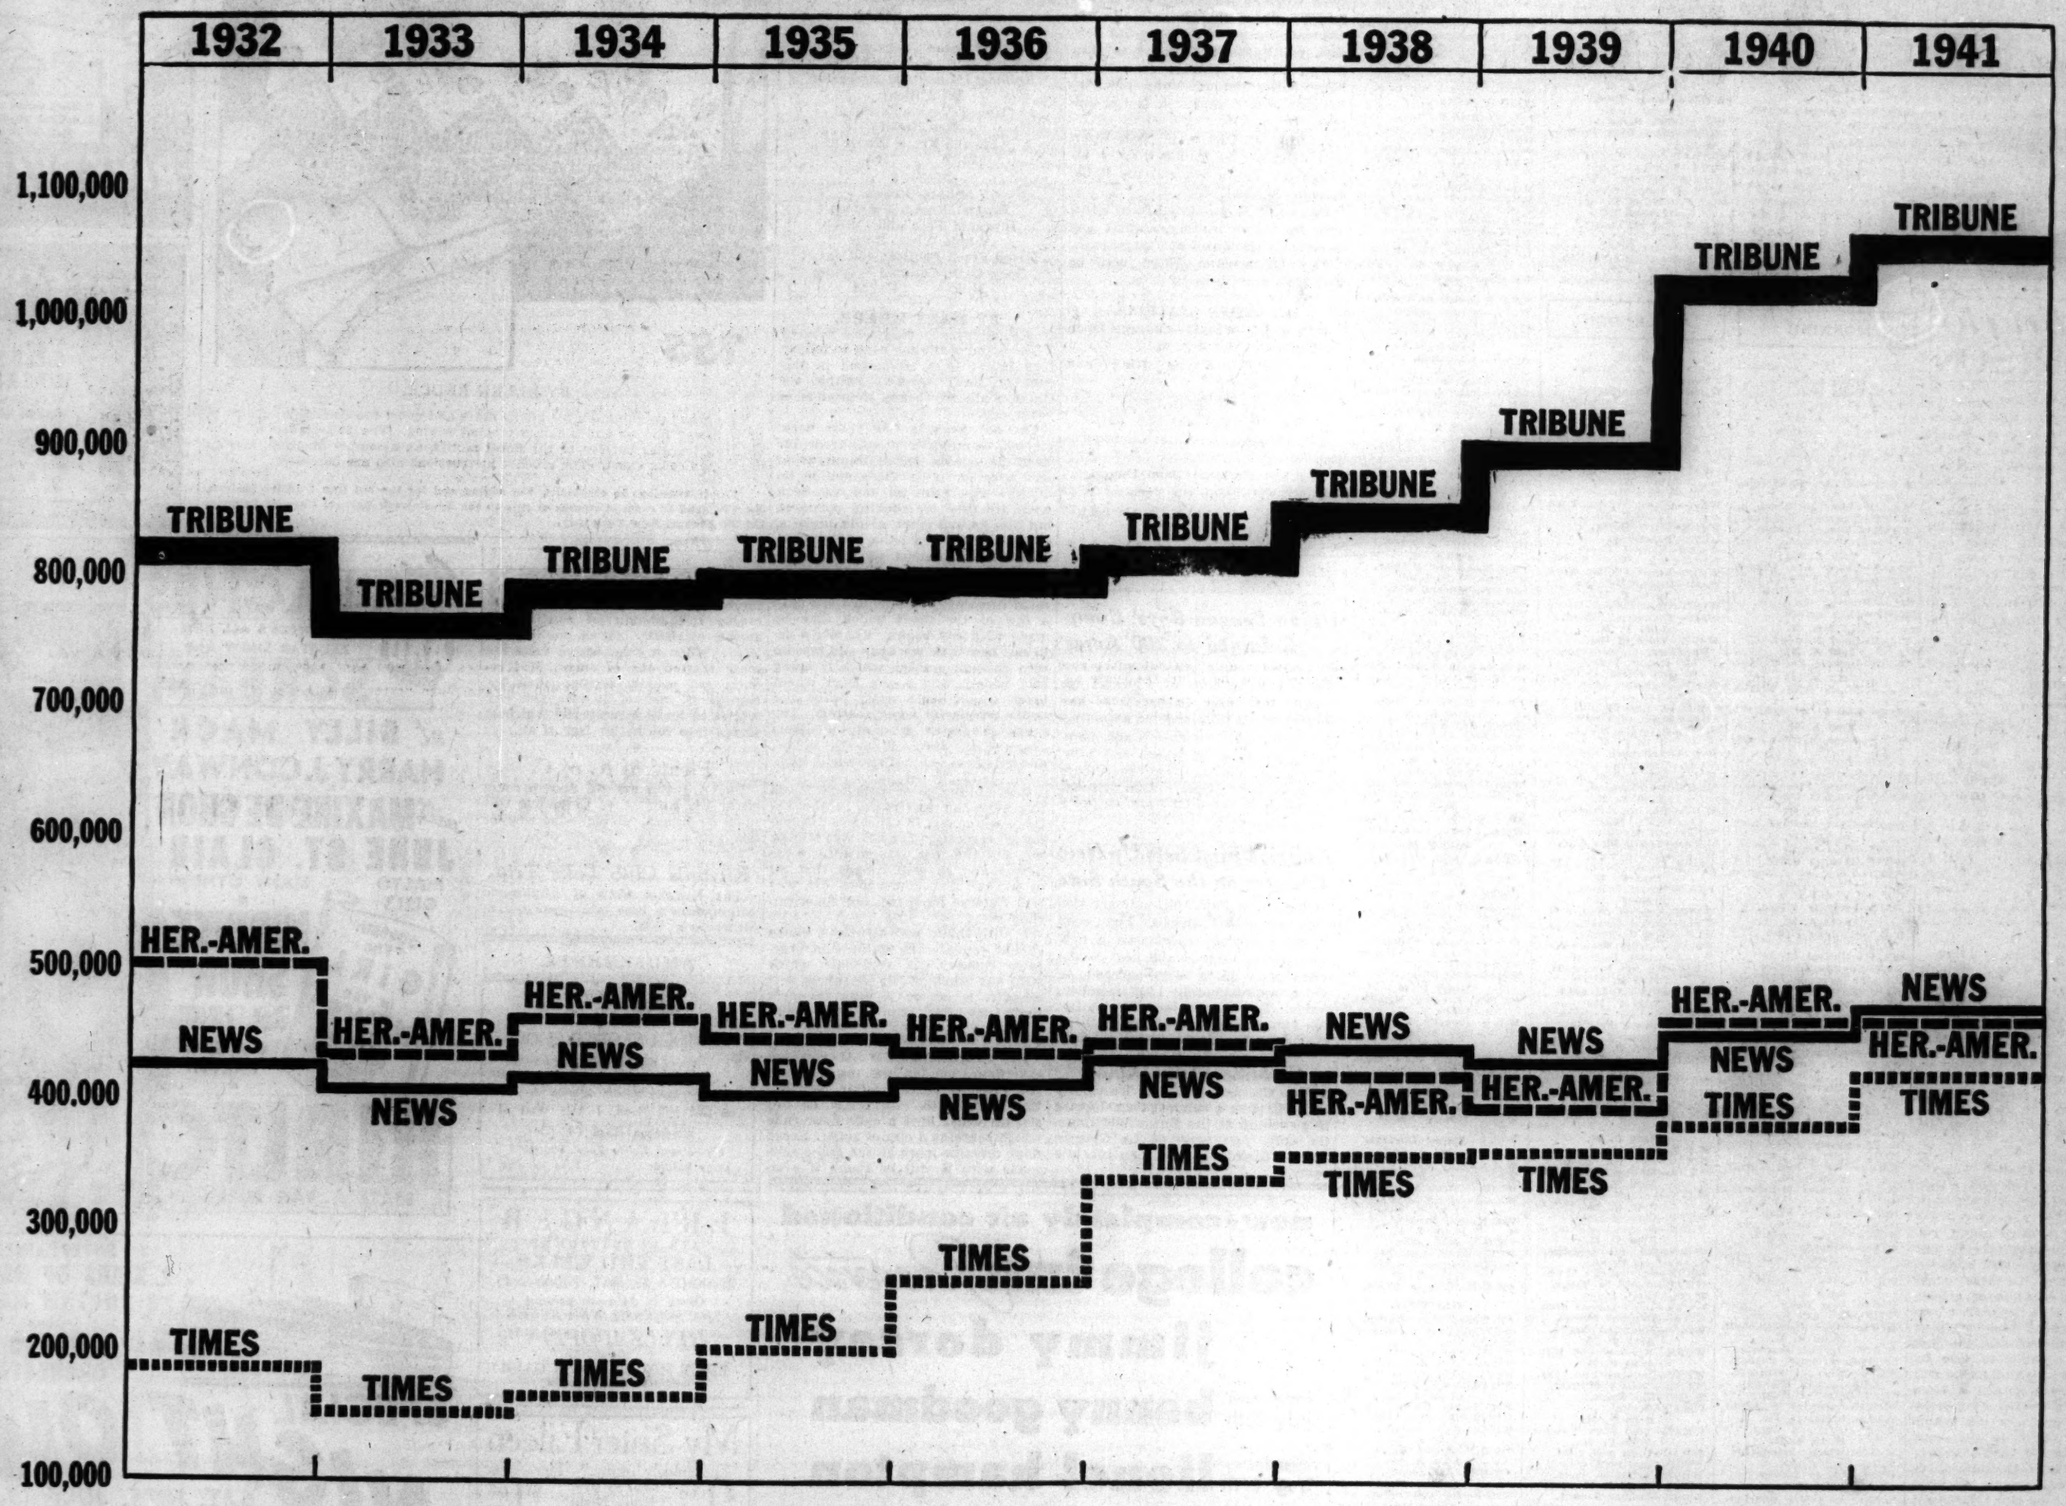
THE POWER OF ADVERTISING IS IN ITS READERS

TOTAL DAILY CIRCULATIONS OF CHICAGO NEWSPAPERS

6-MONTH PERIODS ENDED MARCH 31, 1932-1941



On weekdays, the circulation of the Tribune during the official six-month period ended March 31, 1941 was from 595,214 to 641,008—127% to 151%—larger than that of other Chicago daily newspapers.

On Sundays it was from 316,431 to 785,971—36% to 187%—larger than that of other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

Tribune circulation continues to grow because the Tribune keeps faith with readers—the Tribune's first interest.

From long experience readers know they can rely on the Tribune. They know that it prints the facts, that it is free of financial, social, and political tie-ups, and that it employs reporters who are not misled by propagandists.

They know that the Tribune does not sell its columns for official favors, or suppress news of important events which affect their welfare.

They know that as a Chicago newspaper the Tribune is locally owned and edited. That as a midwest product it reflects midwest sentiment; and that as an American newspaper it keeps American interests foremost.

What advertisers get out of a newspaper depends on what the editor puts into it. Because it gives readers more for their money, the Tribune gives advertisers more for theirs.

The facts show that you build more sales in the Chicago market when you build your advertising campaign around the Tribune.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Johnny Rigney got a belated break with two out in the 10th inning yesterday for a 4 to 3 White Sox victory over the Boston Red Sox in Comiskey park. Rigney, in addition to driving in the only earned Chicago runs with a triple and a single, pitched heroically in the face of terrible support offensively and defensively. Then victory came to thwart Lefty Grove in his second try for his 300th major league triumph.

Grove was beaten by the following circumstances in the 10th: After Tom Turner and Bill Knickerbocker had been retired Bill Knickerbocker walked. Luke Appling then sent a line drive which Lou Finney dropped and Knickerbocker got home with the payoff run.

The Sox thus ended their losing streak at four straight.

Just Forget the Protest.

The game was played under formal protest after a fuzzy run in the seventh had put the Red Sox ahead, 3 to 2.

At the point of a 1 to 1 tie at the end of the Boston second Rigney had no cause for complaint. The Chicago run in the first inning was unearned. Joe Kuhel was safe on Jimmy Foxx's fumble and got home on Taft Wright's double. The first Boston run was earned.

But listen what happened in the Chicago second: With one out Skeeter Webb beat out an infield single. Tom Turner then lined one along the third base line and Webb pulled up at third and Turner at second. But it developed that Turner had forgot to touch first base. The Red Sox threw the ball around a while, eventually getting it, to first base, whereupon Turner was called out. Rigney then tripled over Dom DiMaggia's head, scoring Webb.

More Grief for John.

In the fourth the Red Sox tied the score. Foxx got on base on Webb's error, took third on a single, and scored on a tardy try for a double play.

Then there was the protested run in the seventh. Johnny Peacock opened with a single. Grove bunted and Turner picked up the ball and threw to Appling at second after Peacock had arrived. Appling then tossed the ball into the Boston dugout, whereupon the umpires waved Peacock home and Grove to second. The protest was based on the claim Peacock should have been allowed to go only to third.

The White Sox tied the score in the seventh, thanks again to Rigney's bat. Webb beat out a bunt and, after Turner had fled out, stole second. Skeeter scored on Rigney's single to left.

BUD WILLIAMSON OF FORT WAYNE FIRES GREAT 67

Four Tie for Third with 70s.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Benjamin Hogan, a mite of a man who has appeared at the cashier's window in his last 50 tournaments, yesterday moved himself into line again with a 66 that gave him the first round lead in the fourth annual $5,000 Chicago Open at the Elmhurst Country club.

Hogan, who weighs 140 pounds and is apt to smack his drives twice that figure in yards, assembled a pair of 33s to give himself a one stroke advantage on the field of more than 200 starters going into today's second 18 holes. The final 36 holes will be played tomorrow under what the weather man avers will be respectable conditions.

Bud Williamson Gets 67.

The only reason Hogan, Vardon trophy holder and leading money winner of 1940, is not out there in front by four shots is Ralph [Bud] Williamson, a tall and pleasant citizen of Fort Wayne, Ind. Bud came in early with one of those cards to which you usually say, "Huh? say that again!" It started out with a discouraging seven on the par four first hole. The 29 year old Hoosier then went out and played the next 17 holes in precisely 60 swings for a great 67. Williamson's admirers were not startled, for he has played fine golf in his eight year professional career.

Next in line with 70s, one under par, was a quartet headed by Thomas D. Armour, the sage of Medinah. The veteran turned in a card that asked no favors from the duplicates reported by his juniors—John Bulla of Chicago; Mike Turnesa of the New York golfing clan, and Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y.

Six Shoot Even Par.

Matching par of 71 were Denny Shute of Chicago, former British Open and American professional champion and runnerup in this year's United States Open; Jim Ferrier, Elmhurst's home club pro; Horton Smith of Pinehurst, N. C.; Ernie Harrison of Chicago; John Barnum of the home club, and Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Cal. Barnum, Mexican amateur title holder and runnerup for the Trans-Mississippi last month, and Vines, former world's tennis champion, led the amateur delegation for the day.

Dick Metz of Oak Park, the defending champion, was in the 72 bracket, while Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., National Open and Masters' boss for 1941, was away slowly to a 73 after a start that included a 6-5 on the par four first and second. Victor Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., winner of the National PGA crown in Denver last Sunday, could do no better than a pair of 39s for a 78. One of the cheerful reports of the opening round was the 72 shot by Glen View's veteran, Jock Hutchison Sr. Corporal Bob Babbish, former Western amateur champion, who obtained a four day leave from his post at Fort Sheridan in order to compete in the tournament, marched up in the front ranks with a 72.

Gallery of 3,500 on Hand.

The gallery estimated at 3,500 was the best opening day attendance in the four year history of the show.

A driving contest will begin on the first tee at 4 o'clock this afternoon, involving such tee shot artists as Sam Snead, Jimmy Thomson, Lawson Little, John David, and Bulla and Hogan. A $50 prize will be given for the longest single drive and a similar amount for the best average on three drives.

Hogan's round, which stands as a competitive record under Elmhurst's revised conditions, was climaxed by a superb four on the tough 448 yard 18th, one that saved him from a 67, or possibly a 68. Hogan drove the heavy grass to the right of the tee, and sent his second into the sand at the right of the green. The little Texan calmly eyed the ball, walked from the bunker to the putting surface, and then came back and blasted

Out of Town Entrants Face Chicago's Best.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

More than 400 boys and girls will report this afternoon at two qualifying centers for their 100 yard swimming tests sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities. From Cermak pool, 7600 Ogden avenue, Lyons, Ill., and from Sherman park, 52d street and Racine avenue, will come 50 youngsters who will be eligible for the Chicagoland title events in teen age divisions a week from tomorrow afternoon in California park.

The other qualifiers will be named after the tests tomorrow in Whealan pool, Devon and Milwaukee avenues, and California park, 3901 North California avenue. One hundred and twenty will compete in the finals.

Races Start at 2 P. M.

Eleven boys and 10 girls are on the tentative qualifying list from Cermak pool this afternoon. Eighteen boys and 11 girls will qualify from Sherman park. All contestants will report at 1 o'clock today to be assigned to their preliminary races. The first race at the sectional meets will start at 2 p. m.

St. John's camps of Delafield, Wis., is one of the prominent contenders for sectional honors. All swimmers will be awarded souvenir bronze medals for negotiating 100 yards. A., and other south side clubs will vie with swimmers from Elkhart, Ind., South Bend, Gary, and St. Joseph, Mich., for qualifying honors at the Sherman park pool. The majority of entries, however, are individual and nearly two-thirds of them are from boys and girls under 17. The 100 yard races are the primary tests for swimming in Chicagoland.

All swimmers must pass a physical examination before competing in the races. These tests will be given by physicians from the Chicago Tribune A. A. Members of this group also conduct the races and serve in other promotional programs such as the Golden Gloves amateur boxing bouts and the Silver Skates Derbies. Chief physician at Cermak pool will be Dr. William Rothman. Dr. John Wall will serve in the similar capacity at Sherman park.

Don Hutson Proves That He's Quite a Star as a Decoy, Too

[POLL ON PAGE 15.]

BY E. L. (CURLEY) LAMBEAU.

Green Bay, Wis., July 18.—Up here in the north country among fishermen it is tall tale time. I could tell about some of the big ones which got away from the Green Bay Packers in the 1937 Chicago All-Star game. However, I believe the Packers would rather recall one of the plays in the 45 to 28 victory over the College All-Americans last year.

There was bitter disappointment in our camp four years ago when the All-Stars, under the leadership of Charles [Gus] Dorais, slipped the Packers a 6 to 0 defeat. The horn tooters in our lumberjack band didn't get much chance to toot that night in Soldiers' field. But it was a different story on Aug. 29, 1940.

Generalship Turns Tide.

The collegians were great performers that night, but I believe we had the advantage of superb generalship by our quarter backs—Cecil Isbell, Arnie Herber, and Joe Laws.

One of the players involved in the maneuver which clicked so impressively against Dr. Eddie Anderson's all-Americans has proved poison to all clubs in the National league, including the Chicago Bears, who this year have the job of upholding league prestige against the All-Stars in Soldiers' field on Aug. 28. If you haven't guessed already he's Don Hutson. He served as the decoy in this deceptive play and the All-Americans went hook, line and sinker.

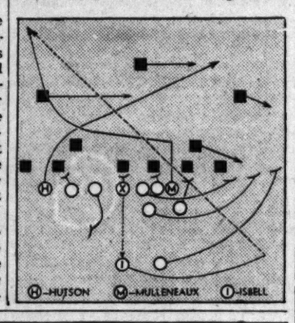
It doesn't require a master strategist to devise plays when you have a player of Hutson's ability. The clubs in the National league are aware of Hutson's speed, so Don always finds himself covered by two or three men.

Let me give you the detailed description of the events which took place in Soldiers' field last year. It was midway in the first period and the score was tied, 7 to 7. There was a fumble by Hal Van Every of Minnesota on the All-Stars' 26 yard line. The ball was recovered by Green Bay's guard, Russ Letlow. I immediately sent in Carl Mulleneaux to replace Milt Gantenbein at right end.

Isbell to Mulleneaux.

The Packers lined up and Center Bud Svendsen passed the ball to Isbell, who started on a wide end run to his right. Hutson from his position at left end cut across the field, also to the right. He had to be covered by the secondary. He was a possible pass receiver.

Mulleneaux, at right end, went straight up the field for eight yards, appeared to be trying to block the safety man, then cut sharply to his left into the clear, the space vacated by the defensive back who had followed Hutson. Isbell executed a perfect fake end run before making a sharp stop and tossed an accurate pass across the field at a 45 degree angle to Mulleneaux, who scored standing up. Here's the diagram:



51 Yachts Open Long Race to Mackinac Island Today

A fleet of 51 sail yachts—one less than last year's record entry—will start this afternoon off Belmont harbor for Mackinac island, Mich., in the Chicago Yacht club's 34th annual long distance race. The 52d entry, Apache, was scratched yesterday after it had been dismasted.

The first class, the Universal [racing] division, will be started at 1 p. m., and the last, the A class of the cruising division, at 3 o'clock.

The steamer lane distance to Mackinac is 331 statute miles, but the racing yachts will cover more than 500 miles.

1940 Winners Defend Titles.

Bangalore, Ed Lumbard's cruising cutter, and Lively Lady, Otto Dreher's Q class sloop, are defending the cruising and racing honors, respectively. A dozen yachts will compete in this race for the first time. These are Iris, Mimi, Wench, Nirvanna, Stroller, Aramis, Thunderhead, Loofa, Shadrach, Royono, Scimitar, and Carolyn.

Largest of the six groups of yachts is the A class of the cruising division, with 18 entries. Ten of these are fast yawls, measuring between 44 and 72 feet overall, which are expected to furnish close competition. Royono, largest yacht in the race, heads this group. The other big yawls are Trident, Southern Cross, Manitou [winner in 1938], Ruth S. II., Betty Bro, Tahuna, Hostess II., Malabar XI., and Tomahawk.

Four Women Will Sail.

Four yachtswomen and nearly 400 yachtsmen will sail.

The Apache, sailing to Chicago from Mackinac island after finishing the annual Port Huron-Mackinac race last Monday, was dismasted yesterday by the heavy offshore wind between Milwaukee and Chicago. The crew reached Chicago under auxiliary motor power. Thomas K. Fisher, of the Grosse Pointe Yacht club, Detroit, the owner, was not aboard.

The entries, with clubs represented,

11 RUN TODAY IN $7,500 RACE ON ARLINGTON GRASS

Sun Lover Risks Prestige in Strong Field.

ELEVEN horses were named in the overnight entries for the $7,500 Arlington handicap which will be run today over Arlington Park's turf course. The field in order of post positions follows:

Horse and jockey—	Wt.	Prob. odds.

Cherry Trifle [W.Borton]	100	8-1

Dorimar [C.McCreery]	110	12-1

Equifox [A.Craig]	113	5-1
Shot Put [W.Garner]	114	4-1

*Miles and Ramsey and Arcturus stable entry.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Sun Lover will risk his recently regained prestige against 10 rivals today in the $7,500 Arlington handicap which will be run for the first time on the picturesque grass course at Arlington Park. The Millsdale stable's representative, which returned to competition during the present meeting following a layoff of over a year, equaled the track record in winning a race of a mile and an eighth on the turf last Tuesday. Thereby he not only demonstrated that he is up to his best form but he also showed a liking for the grassy footing.

Sun Lover is an old friend of Arlington racing fans. He gave them some of their most exciting moments in the Classic of 1939, when he swept past Johnstown and came alongside Challendon in the stretch to run second the rest of the way home. In his tuneup last Tuesday he forced Sky Ball's early pace, took the lead after going a little more than a half mile, and won easily.

Dog House Runs Second.

Quite a few others who will run in today's race at a mile and three-sixteenths took part in Tuesday's test. Dog House was second, two lengths behind Sun Lover. Equifox closed rapidly after a slow beginning and took fourth place. Viscounty raced well in the early stages, but tired in the stretch and came in seventh.

Shot Put, distance champion of 1940, which has failed several times since winning the La Salle handicap at Lincoln Fields, will try to redeem himself today. He delivered a good workout over the grass course on Tuesday afternoon a few minutes after Sun Lover's winning effort. In his most recent start Shot Put finished seventh in the Stars and Stripes handicap.

Equifox, winner of the Lincoln handicap, demonstrated in the Stars and Stripes that he still is in excellent condition. He took second place, beaten only a head by Steel Heels.

Idle Sun Wins Grassland.

Idle Sun showed talent for performing on the Arlington turf course when he won the $2,500 Grassland handicap, a mid-week stake on July 9. Woodvale stable's Dorimar was shipped in from the east with Our Boots and she is scheduled to go to the post today.

The Arlington handicap was not run last season and when it was decided to revive it this year, the track management decided that it should contribute to the growing popularity of races on the grass. Accordingly it was endowed with the highest purse of any turf course race in America.

Miss Varin Wins Indiana Women's Title, 11 and 9

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

SINCE Joe Lokanc of Northwestern has proved a popular candidate for the 1941 All-Star football squad, it's time to get straightened out on the correct pronunciation of his name. . . . For three years radio announcers have been calling him Joe Le Konk, which sounds like a gangster's monicker. . . . The right way is Joe Lokonse. . . . Craig Wood's only comment after losing a 6 and 5 match to Mark Fry in the second round of the PGA tournament at Denver was, "Now I know how Conn felt in the 13th round." . . . More than 500,000 have seen "The All-American Way," the film based on THE TRIBUNE'S famous sports promotions, since the premiere last Jan. 10. . . . Newspaper men still are talking about the perfect way press arrangements were handled for the All-Star baseball game in Detroit. . . . It has not always been thus, and are you listenin', Yankee stadium? . . . Lazy Luke Appling, the Georgia tired man, twice has blamed the same knee for ducking All-Star games, including the one this year. . . . Next time, it is said, he will change his complaint to dandruff. . . . Ellsworth Vines, former world's tennis champion, has become one of the most fanatical golfers in the country. . . . Wherever there's a major golf event, you'll find him in the gallery—if he isn't playing in it. . . . His 69 in the Western Amateur is a sample of his ability. . . . Julie Alfonse and Vic Spadaccini, former back field mates at Minnesota, are reunited at Fort Snelling, Minn. . . . Al Schacht, the funny man, is trying to get back with the Senators as a coach. . . .

When the Cubs return to Wrigley field baseball authors will find the walls of the Pink Poodle, press lounge and recreation center, adorned with the long awaited caricature frescoes by Otis Shepard, Wrigley company art director and caricaturist par excellence. . . . Jerry Anderson of Des Plaines, Ill., who says his predictions are invariably accurate, picks the Chicago Bears to whip the College All-Stars on Aug. 28 by 49 to 27. . . . Bing Crosby has a standing offer to caddies at the Lakeside course in California that he will give them a $100 merchandise check for clothing if he breaks 70 there. . . . The South Atlantic league has a 275 pound umpire named Ronnie Throgmorton. . . . Don McNeill, national tennis champion, hasn't scored an important victory this summer. . . . He was beaten by Frank Parker in the finals of the Triple A tournament at St. Louis, by Parker again in the semi-finals of the national clay court meet at River Forest, by Bobby Riggs in the finals of the Southern tournament at Louisville, and by Ladislav Hecht yesterday in the New York State tournament. . . . At that rate he may fall to No. 4 in national rankings. . . . The Pirates have six former Boston Braves on their roster—Elbie Fletcher, Debs Garms, Al Lopez, Vince DiMaggio, Joe Sullivan, and Johnny Lanning.

Miracles.

The bread man eats turns into flesh and bone,
A miracle that no one can explain;
The seeds that in the lifeless earth are sown
Are transformed into fields of golden grain;
Ask men of science and philosophy
To tell you how these wonders have been done,
They are like blinking eyes that strive to see
The mechanism in the mid-day sun.
And yet what inconsistent folk we are
To doubt that Christ changed water into wine,
Or question the appearances of the star
That led the Wise Men to the Infant's shrine,
As if aught were impossible to God
Who lifts the spotless lily from the sod.
—T. E. B.

When a Vision Becomes a Sight.

I often wonder how many proposed marriages would fall by the wayside if the boys could see their sleepy-eyed beauties in a state of semiconsciousness on the early morning street car. —Eddie Drake.

Giddy Girdle.

The salesman sold a portly girl
A girdle which he said
Would hold her in quite properly
Tho she were overfed.
"O, well," she sighed in girlish glee,
As silently she cussed,
She heard a spap: "They told me 'twould Reduce the hips or bust."

ONE MORE ASSURANCE

President Roosevelt, on Oct. 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act, said:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

"The purpose of our defense is defense."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—DIVIDE AND CONQUER

Chicago Gets a Full Card of Tennis Today

Chicago tennis fans can choose their own brand of competition, amateur or professional, this afternoon. Bill Tilden will lead a troupe of professional stars onto the Saddle and Cycle club courts, Sheridan road and Foster avenue, at 2:30 o'clock, just half an hour after the Illinois state tournament opens at the Beverly Hills Tennis club, 9127 South Hamilton avenue.

Perry Plays Kozeluh.

Fred Perry, the professional champion, will play Karel Kozeluh of Czecho-Slovakia and Tilden will meet Vinnie Richards in singles matches. The program will be reversed with Tilden playing Perry and Richards meeting Kozeluh tomorrow afternoon and a doubles match, Tilden and Richards against Perry and Kozeluh, will conclude each day's play.

The state tournament has attracted the nation's leading junior stars and many high ranking men. Gardner Larned and Jim Evert, Chicago contenders for the national junior title, and Budge Patty, 1939 boys' champion from California, are entered. Dave Kreeman, former national junior champion, from Pomona [Cal.] college; Calvin Sawyler of Chicago, and Walter Driver of San Antonio, Tex., lead the older players.

Well Known Women Players.

The women's sector is filled with such well known tennis names as Mrs. Helen Fulton Stockley of Evanston, Marion Woolhiser and Evelyn Bouscaren of Winnetka, and Mrs. Morey Lewis [formerly Baba Madden of Boston], and Grace McCollum of Chicago.

The state tournament will continue thru Sunday, July 27.

PIRATES, 5-3; BRAVES, 1-4.

Boston, Mass., July 18 (AP).—The Braves rallied for two runs in the ninth inning today to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3, in the second game of a double header after losing the opener, 5 to 1. Ken Heintzelman yeilded only four hits in the first game.

The Braves lost Chet Ross, probably for the season, when he fractured his fibula and strained the same ankle ligaments he injured so severely in spring training. Ross suffered his injury in the ninth inning of the first game as he slid into second base and broke up a double play.

Cubs to Face Those Pesky Giants Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 18.—The sixth place Cubs, who had no league business to transact today, will be routed out early in the morning and marched off to New York, a place for which they have developed a great dislike. The metropolis is the hang-out of the Giants, and the baseball world knows pretty well by now that Terry's boys have been ringleaders in the plot to keep the Chicagoans from anything better than a long distance view of the first division. The Giants have spanked Jim Wilson's gaily garbed troupe nine times in a dozen games.

Boss Wilson, who after a long term with the hapless Phillies knows how to take it gracefully, thinks he has a fair amount of pitching available for the impending meeting which involves

GRAINS DO LITTLE AS TRADERS TALK OF SPACE NEEDS

Storage Problem Remains Without Solution.

Continued worries over the storage space shortage here and in other major markets restricted trading in grain futures yesterday. Closing trades on wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade were about the bottom with July ½ cent lower at $1.00⅞ a bushel and the deferred futures unchanged. The July finished at 2⅛ cents a bushel under September, a discount sufficient to permit taking delivery of wheat on July contracts and paying storage, interest, and insurance charges until Sept. 1.

Corn, oats, and rye showed a heavy undertone most of the day. Corn futures finished unchanged to ⅜ cent lower and oats lost ¼ to ⅝ cents.

July Soy Beans Climb.

Short covering in the July delivery of soy beans caused a bulge of 3½ cents in that future with the close at $1.50¾, the best price of the day. The deferred months were ½ to ¾ cent higher. Lard closed 2½ to 10 cents higher per hundred pounds. Purchases of 7,227,000 pounds by the government gave the lard market support.

One elevator man said elevators were not working overtime to unload grain because the low storage rates allowed by the government made it impossible to pay elevator employes time and a half for overtime work.

Report Corn Bid Rejected.

It was reported that a Chicago elevator firm submitted a bid to the CCC on Thursday for 200,000 bushels of cash corn at a price somewhat higher than the government agency was asking. The offer was said to have been rejected on the grounds that the CCC needed the grain to take care of other customers.

HOG PRICES SINK DESPITE DROP IN FARM SHIPMENTS

Despite a sharp reduction in hog shipments by farmers and a steady wholesale market for fresh pork, hog buyers gained the upper hand in the market at the stockyards yesterday. Soon after a barely steady opening, prices weakened mostly 10 to 15 cents, with some 270 to 300 pound butchers showing losses of 25 cents and more.

The $11.85 a hundredweight top price was paid sparingly, and compared with a $12 peak early Thursday. Prices for the day averaged 10 cents lower, at $11.05. This was only the second time in 17 days that the average price showed a decline.

Advances of 10 to 15 cents occurred in lambs. Steers, yearlings, and heifers sold quickly at the preceding day's price gains.

TOY SHORTAGES PREDICTED AS ARMING RESULT

This Year's Supplies Ample, However.

Chicago department store officials said yesterday that altho they have not yet experienced serious difficulties in getting toys to offer their customers, they expect a gradual reduction in supplies because of the precedence given the steel and other requirements of arms producers.

Shoppers will find a generous selection of toys from now until the 1941 Christmas shopping season has been concluded, it was said, but after that a severe pinch is expected. The pinch will develop first in toys made largely of steel, aluminum, rubber and other materials on which manufacturers of military equipment have first call.

Manufacturers Lack Supplies.

Toy manufacturers have already begun to feel the pinch. Some of them, particularly those who have not received government orders for armament parts, reported they will be forced to curtail their operations and employment unless they get supplies.

P. W. Chmielewski, owner of the Lakewood Manufacturing company, 1220 North Bosworth avenue, said his experience is typical of the smaller manufacturers: "We'll probably have to curtail our production 20 to 30 per cent next season," he said. "We can't get steel and nickel plating." The company produces roller skates and has 15 employés.

S. Ward Hamilton Sr., president of Hamilton Steel Products, Inc., manufacturer of coaster wagons and scooters with about 250 employés at 1825 West 74th street, said:

"We're up against it for steel, and are going to be short of necessary materials for 1942. The situation looks bad, and we don't seem to be able to get any defense orders, either."

Face "Blank Wall" for 1942.

W. F. Hafner, treasurer of the Hafner Manufacturing company, which employs 150 persons turning out toy trains and other products at 1010 North Kolmar avenue, said:

"We were lucky to get in enough material for this year, but we're up against a blank wall for 1942. Most of the toy manufacturers are going to be helpless, I'm afraid, because of the inability to get steel, aluminum, and brass."

Others found the situation less disturbing. William Schmidt, head of the Architectural Decorating company, with 100 employés at 1600 South Jefferson street, commented:

"We've practically given up making toys, and have a government contract making training devices for anti-aircraft units. It's impossible to get plywood these days for the model houses which we have manufactured."

Other Firms Face Shortages.

Walter Smith, president of the Junior Toy corporation, which employs 1,000 persons in manufacturing bicycles at Hammond, Ind., said:

"The situation is as good as can be expected under the circumstances. I still think the toy business is pretty good, all things considered."

In general, however, the toy manufacturers found tough sledding, in line with the experience reported by manufacturers of other goods in a survey being undertaken by the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association. The organization said a large majority of those who already have answered a questionnaire reported an inability to obtain armament contracts, and some reported they would be obliged to quit business unless necessary materials were made available.

Storage Crisis Mounts as U. S. Aid Tours West

With the entire responsibility of finding a solution to the grain storage problem in Chicago resting with the Commodity Credit corporation, according to elevator operators, all local officials of that government agency yesterday departed for Kansas City. When asked by the Associated Press what they were doing in Missouri when the Chicago situation is critical, C. H. Hunter, senior administrative official and secretary of the government storage committee, replied that he was "on a routine trip on storage rules and regulations."

Movement of wheat from the country is at a peak. Operators of many of the grain elevators here have refused to accept grain for storage on which the farmer expects to place a government loan. As a result of this and the huge stocks of grain carried over from last year, storage space for wheat has dwindled until space for only a few thousand bushels remains.

Relief Up to U. S. Agency.

"Any relief for farmers waiting to ship wheat to the terminal markets for storage so that they can get some money out of their crop, must come from the Commodity Credit corporation," W. H. McDonald of Rosenbaum Brothers, a member of the government committee, said last night.

"If the CCC could have found a way yesterday to release some of the vacant storage space it has under lease in Chicago for the storage of loan wheat, the whole situation would have been cleared up for the time being, at least," McDonald said.

"As it is, 825 cars of grain came in [Friday]. We carried over 374 cars of loan wheat from Thursday. Of these 374 cars, farmers and shippers are paying $2.20 a day demurrage [charges for cars not unloaded 48 hours after arrival] on 176 cars. This demurrage will amount to $5.50 a day after four days.

First Limitation in History.

"When we had to ask the farmers yesterday not to ship any more grain to Chicago for storage unless they had made previous arrangements for its handling, it was the first time in the history of this market that any sort of an embargo had to be put on grain shipments by the trade."

The dealers and elevator operators charge the CCC has vacant space for more than 3 million bushels of grain.

Plan Big Food Warehouse on Far South Side

BY AL CHASE.

Plans have been drawn and work is expected to start soon on one of the largest grocery warehouses in the Chicago area, it was learned yesterday. It will be built at the northwest corner of State and 87th streets by High-Low Foods, Inc., on a 10 acre tract purchased from the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee for the Martin Dawson estate.

Miss Genevieve C. Roney.

Miss Genevieve C. Roney, executive manager of High-Low Foods, Inc., took title to the property.

Large Store Also Planned.

The tract just purchased extends for 1,270 feet along 87th street and will be served by the Belt railroad. At the State street corner, just east of the warehouse section, one of the largest and most modern of the High-Low stores will be built. It will have unusual parking facilities, with provision made for customers to get out of their cars and enter the store entirely under cover.

Miss Roney is a sister of John R. Roney, who developed a small grocery on the south side into a chain of 300 stores known as the Consumers' Sanitary Coffee and Butter stores, operating in the Chicago metropolitan area from Racine to Gary. These he sold in 1928 to the Kroger Grocery and Baking company for $8,250,000.

Former Kroger Official.

Miss Roney was secretary and treasurer of her brother's organization and became manager of the Chicago office of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company. She resigned this position in 1939 to become identified with the High-Low Foods, Inc., which was formed in 1938 by her nephew, Walter J. Roney, president of the company.

High-Low Foods, Inc., has 23 stores in operation on the south side and has several more under construction.

Food Leads Upswing

Food prices led advancing living costs for Chicago's wage earners and lower salaried clerical workers in June, according to a monthly survey prepared by the division of industrial economics of the Conference board of New York. Living costs were 0.9 per cent higher last month than in May and 2.5 per cent higher than in June, 1940.

Food prices were 2.5 per cent higher in June than in May and housefurnishing costs advanced 1.2 per cent. Since June, 1940, food costs here have risen 5.6 per cent; fuel and light, 3.2 per cent; house furnishings, 2.3 per cent, and housing, 1.2 per cent. Clothing costs declined 0.2 per cent.

300 Go Thru Picket Line to Aircraft Jobs

Bendix, N. J., July 18 [Special].—Without drawing a catcall or a boo from a picket line of 25 strikers, more than 300 employés of Air Associates, Inc., entered the aircraft parts plant here today in a scene contrasting with yesterday's violence when six pickets were injured in a clash with police.

Pickets, outnumbered by police, looked on quietly as police searched each car approaching the plant, but made no attempt to stop the flow of workers.

The week-end dispute between the company and local 700, United Automobile Workers, aviation division [CIO], last night was certified to the national defense mediation board by the labor department. Today the board set a hearing for next Tuesday. The strike followed demands for reinstatement of workers reported discharged for union activity.

Illinois Mine Closes.

Rosiclare, Ill., July 18 (AP).—The largest fluorspar mine in the world, operated near here by the Rosiclare Lead and Fluorspar company, closed today following a strike of its 250 employés.

The strikers do not belong to a union, but a spokesman for the group said they were seeking a 50 cents a day wage increase and better working conditions. He said the lowest rate now paid was $3.96 a day.

Ecorse Plant Resumes.

Detroit, Mich., July 18 (AP).—Officials of the Great Lakes Steel corporation plant in suburban Ecorse, where labor troubles had disturbed production the last three days, said today that full operations had been resumed in all departments.

A work stoppage—which both the company and officials of the Steel Workers Organizing committee [CIO] called unauthorized—halted production in the cold mill yesterday. This stoppage was attributed by the company to union members' refusal to work with nonunion workers.

U. S. and Rails End Trust Suit Over Trucks

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—An anti-trust suit against the Association of American Railroads and 236 member roads was settled today by a consent decree which the department of justice said was expected to "restore to individual railroads freedom of action to enter into direct transportation arrangements with motor carriers."

The decree was signed by Judge Bolitha J. Laws in the federal District court for the District of Columbia.

Action Later Rescinded.

Filed Oct. 25, 1939, the suit was based on a resolution adopted by the AAR in June, 1937, which said in part that it was "not desirable for the rail carriers to enter into joint billing arrangements" with the motor carriers.

The AAR subsequently rescinded the resolution and sought unsuccessfully to have the suit dismissed.

The government had charged that the railroads refused to establish rates on loaded trucks, trailers, and truck bodies and refused to establish thru rates, joint rates, and fares and joint billing arrangements with motor carriers.

Armament Need Cited.

The aim of the refusal was to prevent the coördination of railroad and motor carrier service, the government charged.

"The development of more efficient and economic transportation channels is of particular concern to the department at this time because of the necessity for speeding up transportation of materials required by the armament program," the department said in a press release.

RECORDS BROKEN AS 2 FURNITURE SHOWS NEAR END

The summer furniture and home furnishings markets in the American Furniture Mart and Merchandise Mart will close today after setting all-time attendance records since opening July 7.

The American Furniture Mart reported an estimated registered attendance thru last night of 10,550, compared with 10,323 for the corresponding two weeks a year ago. The Merchandise Mart reported a 50 per cent drop in second week registration against last year, because of early placement of orders. The first week, however, raised total attendance above the 10,000 mark, largest for a summer show in the mart's 11 year history.

Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the furniture mart, said manufacturers sold all furniture and furnishings they had allotted to the market. Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart, reported that retail buyers increased their purchases 15 per cent above a year ago.

THE FAIR SIGNS AGREEMENT FOR CIO CLOSED SHOP

Negotiations were completed yesterday betweeen the management of the Fair store and representatives of the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employés of America [CIO].

Under agreements reached the store is placed on a closed shop basis, the 1,600 inside employés will receive a pay increase of approximately 6½ per cent, or $150,000 a year, and union dues will be paid under the checkoff system.

The union was voted bargaining agent at an unopposed election June 16 and certified by the National Labor Relations board July 2. Attending yesterday's conference were J. S. Schoff, company president; Leonard Levy, regional CIO director, and Samuel Wolchok, international union president.

WEEK'S RETAIL TRADE EXCEEDS SEASONAL PACE

New York July 18 (AP).—Retail sales were of better than seasonal proportions in almost every line this week, with total volume about a fourth again as large as this time last year, Dun & Bradstreet said today in its weekly review of business.

"Wholesale trade also was brisk and climbing steadily," the mercantile agency said. "Sellers frequently reported they could have booked more orders if the merchandise had been available. Manufacturers' operating schedules on average still showed only minor changes from the all-time record level of recent weeks."

Retail sales showed an unusually large gain over the same week a year ago, ranging from 21 to 25 per cent for the country as a whole. Biggest gains were in New England, the middle west, and the south. Percentage increases for major areas follow: New England, 26 to 32; middle west, 25 to 28; south, 23 to 27; east, 17 to 22; southwest, 20 to 25; northwest, 16 to 20, Pacific coast, 19 to 24.

Build New Clearing Plant for Food Products Firm

Work has been started on another new plant in the Clearing Industrial district for the Jel Sert company, makers of food products now at 1020 South Central Park avenue. The new plant, to contain 27,000 square feet of floor space, will be at 6601 South Sayre avenue. Completion is set for Sept. 15.

A. of C. Urges Closer Ties Thru Exports to S. America

The Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday indorsed a policy of allocating part of the nation's industrial production for export to "friendly" nations, particularly those of Latin America. It said such action would help strengthen commercial ties. The association said its recommendation was being forwarded to Washington for consideration.

ENLARGE MINTS, PLAN ANOTHER TO MEET COIN NEED

Washington, D. C., July 18 [Special].—The facilities of the three existing United States mints are being enlarged more than a third and a bill has been introduced in congress for the construction of an additional mint to meet the growing demand for coins. This demand is attributed to preparedness spending and taxes, in addition to the need for coins for use in juke boxes, pin ball games, and vending machines.

In 1940, a total of 1,209,478,982 coins was turned out by the three mints. This was an all-time record, but it is expected to be exceeded greatly this year, judging from the fact that production for the first five months this year has run almost 50 per cent ahead of last year.

The three mints at San Francisco, Denver, and Philadelphia are working three shifts, seven days a week.

HALT SEAWAY HEARING SO CONGRESSMEN CAN INSPECT ITS COURSE

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Members of the house rivers and harbors committee took time out from listening to other people's views on the proposed St. Lawrence seaway today to begin a trip to get first-hand information.

They reserved space on a train for New York City from where they will start an inspection of the seaway course and the site of the proposed hydroelectric plant on the northern New York border.

The survey interrupted until next Thursday nearly a month of hearings during which scores of advocates and opponents of the program testified. Before today's recess, spokesmen for the United Mine Workers and the National Manufacturers association joined in opposing the program as a threat to the nation's economy.

DPMA Renews Butter Buying; Price Up; Egg Deal Sets Mark

Consumers who had watched wholesale butter prices decline 4½ cents a pound from recent peaks found hopes for lower retail prices demolished yesterday when the Dairy Products Marketing association announced it was back in the market to boost prices. The government agency purchased 15,500 pounds of butter in New York at ½ cent a pound above the existing market.

Meantime wholesale egg prices, which had been slipping, were trapped for the moment at current levels when another government agency, the Surplus Marketing administration, disclosed a record purchase of processed eggs to give to Britain. The SMA announced it had bought 13,835,470 pounds of frozen eggs and 1,930,300 pounds of dried eggs. Dealers estimated the cost at more than $6,000,000.

Recent Trend Downward.

Both butter and eggs had been declining on the wholesale markets recently despite large purchases of milk, cheese and eggs for Britain under provisions of the lease-lend bill. Butter prices had gone down to the lowest levels since May 1.

While the government had lifted prices for other dairy products and eggs with substantial purchases since early March, it had not bought any butter. When the DPMA entered the market yesterday, it took its first price supporting action in the butter market in more than a year.

Dealers buying butter for delivery next November and December, when production is expected to be small, saw futures prices rebound sharply following the government action. The quotations on the Chicago Mercantile exchange jumped more than 1¼ cents a pound in the most active market of the year. A total of 344 carloads of butter changed hands during the trading session.

October Eggs Climb.

Likewise eggs for delivery next October moved up briskly. Dealers buying supplies for next fall paid 1¼ cents a dozen more than they had the preceding day. They reported that a large portion of yesterday's purchases would be drawn from Chicago reserves. Of the 89 cars of eggs on local tracks they estimated 75 belonged to the government.

The dealers estimated it would take 18,450,000 dozen eggs to provide the raw materials for yesterday's purchase—more than 150 carloads.

BUY HALF A MILLION POUNDS OF CHEESE, MOSTLY FOR BRITAIN

Plymouth, Wis., July 18 [Special].—Twenty carloads—nearly half a million pounds—of American cheddar cheese was bought today by the United States government, bidding on the floor of the Plymouth Cheese exchange for the first time in its history. Most of the cheese will be shipped to England, but some will go to the United States army.

The government paid 20¾ cents a pound, half a cent higher than the market of last week. A handling charge at the point of origin will raise the cost to the government to 23 cents a pound. Exchange officials and government representatives arranged a week ago to change market rules so the government agents could make direct bids.

Few New Securities Sold, but Much Is New Capital

New York, July 18 (AP).—Public offerings of new securities were small this week, but included a large proportion of new capital for business. Total offerings during the week ended yesterday amounted to $27,277,000, Standard & Poor's corporation said today, of which more than $13,000,000 represented new money. Comparisons follow:

	This wk.	Prev. wk.	Year ago.

New Headache for Liquor Users: Price Rise Forecast

The cost of drinking is headed for a sharp increase as a result of impending higher federal taxes and increased raw material and operating costs, liquor dealers said yesterday. They estimated retail prices of liquors will advance 20 per cent. The new prices are not expected to go into effect until the proposed new $1 a gallon levy is adopted by congress. The increase, the second in a year, will raise the federal tax to $4 a gallon. It is estimated the tax collector will get about 65 cents of each dollar spent for liquor.

MATTRESS FIRM BUYS BUILDING FOR EXPANSION

A. Brandwein & Co., 2361 South State street, mattress maker since 1902, yesterday bought the four story plant of John Lucas & Co., Inc., paint manufacturer at 1362 West 37th street, in the Central Manufacturing district, for $100,000. Harry J. Brandwein, treasurer, said the new plant will add 80,000 square feet to the company's present 140,000 on South State.

Altho the company has had several large orders from the government, and expects more, the expansion is being made to take care of normal growth, Brandwein said. Mattresses and sofa beds will be made at the new factory.

SHIP ¼ BILLION OF ARMS DURING FIRST 5 MONTHS

Half of Total Planes Sent to British.

American shipments of arms to Britain and its allies during the first five months of this year amounted to almost a quarter of a billion dollars, according to figures released yesterday by the state department.

More than half of the export total of $247,366,231 in armaments represents war planes. Fighters and bombers valued at $127,484,665 were sent overseas. Other shipments were trainer planes, $3,320,281; plane replacement parts, $10,793,112, and aircraft engines, $37,617,574—a total of $179,215,632 for planes and parts.

Send Guns and Ammunition.

The distribution of other arms shipments to Britain was as follows:

CATEGORY.	VALUE.
Rifles	$ 2,207,663
Revolvers and Pistols	1,216,182
Machine Guns and Automatic Weapons	11,167,867
Guns and Howitzers	8,339,447
Side Arms Ammunition	2,242,442
All Other Ammunition	22,804,472
Tanks and Armored Vehicles	5,992,234
Naval Equipment	1,257,559
Grenades, Bombs, Mines, Torpedoes	6,978,595
Bomb Racks, Gun Mounts, Etc.	35,551
War Chemicals	2,557
Gunpowder	4,758,086
Other Explosives	1,057,925

Federal authorities were inclined to feel that armament shipments on this scale were little better than a dribble. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morganthau Jr., indicated Thursday that the placement of lend-lease and United States arms contracts was so unsatisfactory that it may be necessary to curtail seriously production in the consumers' good lines.

Thru June 30, 49 billion 583 million dollars have been appropriated for armaments, and contracts have been let totaling 27 billion 318 million dollars. Actual production of instruments of war, however, has not been impressive.

Production Just Beginning.

Britain is reported to be getting more than 50 per cent of American airplane production, but the actual shipments of $179,215,632 for five months would indicate, on that basis, that total production amounted to less than 360 million dollars, while 11 billion 469 million dollars has so far been appropriated for military aircraft. Production during the five months would thus be only about 3.1 per cent of the entire program.

In May, department of commerce officials reported, total aircraft exports declined 12 million dollars from the shipments of 66 millions in April.

AUTO DEALERS WARNED THEY FACE A CRISIS

New York, July 18 [Special].—Representatives of automobile dealers from the 12 northeastern states were told today that they face the most serious crisis their business ever has known. L. C. Cargile, president of the National Automobile Dealers association, declared that restrictive proposals of various government agencies extend far "beyond defense measures."

These proposals, he said, threaten seriously the continued existence of the retail automobile business, now carried on by 47,000 dealers with 450,000 employés.

Auto dealers are menaced principally by taxation and proposals of restriction of output and of instalment buying. These curbs are in a state of constant flux, he continued, but all are apt to reach proportions far more serious than even the most pessimistic dealer might expect.

Illinois Jobs and Pay Rolls Show Big Gains During June

The number of Illinois wage earners increased 2.6 per cent and wage payments were up 4.7 per cent in June, as compared with May, the Illinois department of labor reported yesterday. Its survey covered 766,268 wage earners in 6,464 manufacturing and nonmanufacturing establishments.

The gains were unusually large for the May to June period, the department said, being exceeded in the last 18 years only in the 1933 period. The report said that only a small part of the gains resulted from normal seasonal production factors. Wage rate increases were reported by 299 establishments, employing 49,271 wage earners.

Manufacturing Gains Large.

In the 2,441 manufacturing establishments reporting, employment was up 2.7 per cent and pay rolls increased 5.5 per cent. The average changes for May to June during the last 18 years were a decline of 0.1 per cent for employment and an increase of 0.5 per cent for pay rolls.

For the manufacturing establishments the June employment index was 26.3 per cent above the index for June, 1940, and the pay rolls index was 48 per cent higher.

Average Earnings Rise.

In nonmanufacturing industries employment was 2.3 per cent greater than in May and the pay rolls increased 2.8 per cent. Compared with June, 1940, the employment index was up 10.5 per cent and the pay roll index up 16.4 per cent.

Average weekly earnings of the 766,268 wage earners covered in the report were $31.26, which is 65 cents higher than the $30.61 a week average for May.

FIND SMALL ILLINOIS FIRMS SHARE LITTLE IN ARMAMENTS WORK

The Illinois Manufacturers' association announced yesterday that its survey of smaller industries in the state showed that the "little fellow" so far has had little opportunity to share in the armament program. It said further that there is "extensive apprehension" among executives of smaller businesses concerning the ultimate effect of their inability to obtain essential materials.

Officials of the association said they have submitted the results of this survey personally to Office of Production Management heads, including E. R. Stettinius Jr., director of the priorities division, and Robert L. Mehornay, chief of the defense contract service. The association urged a larger volume of arms contracts for Illinois and spreading orders among smaller companies.

People and Events

The Jewel Tea company's annual picnic for employés will be held tomorrow at Barrington. About 3,250 are expected to attend.

Fred Michau of the special assessment department of the Chicago Title and Trust company celebrates his 50th anniversary as an employé of the company today. He began work for Haddock, Vallette and Rickcords, a predecessor of the present title company, in 1891 as an office boy.

Arming Boom Is Boomerang for Salesmen

For thousands of salesmen the industrial boom resulting from armament orders is proving to be a calamity. They have found themselves no longer needed by companies which are now producing solely for the government or which can not obtain raw materials because of priorities. And the out of work salesman soon discovers he is a drug on the market.

This was apparent yesterday from a survey of leading private employment agencies. Altho some agencies said they can still find employment for top flight salesmen who are easily adaptable to new lines, all agreed that the number of unemployed salesmen have increased drastically since last spring.

If a die casting plant or a small foundry without armament contracts is forced to close down or curtail its output thru lack of materials, the skilled workmen can find employment the next day.

Skilled Men Easily Placed.

Expert stenographers, draftsmen, designers, and engineers can command fancy prices. But the salesman?

"He's a specialist without a job," said George J. Hones, head of the Hones agency at 14 East Jackson boulevard. "It was the same way in the last war, only then, as I recall, priorities came upon us more slowly and the adjustment was less abrupt."

Many are trying to find jobs in the food industries and allied businesses, anything which doesn't use metal. But with the market glutted with available men the food salesmen are hanging on tight to their jobs.

Among the businesses most heavily hit are those manufacturing and selling aluminumware. Many steel salesmen who are not out of work spend the day sitting at desks with nothing to do. Salesmen of vacuum cleaners, washing machines, refrigerators, and other household appliances have found their services no longer needed.

Some Find Other Lines.

George A. Cook, manager of the sales, technical, and executive departments for the Cadillac agency, said that the salesman for the smaller companies were those to feel the pinch first.

"But top flight men who have been in industrial sales can find jobs if they aren't afraid to work," he added. "For example if a man has been selling to tool makers we might be able to get him a job selling to the plastic people, or from selling magnesium to selling high temperature cement."

H. Marvin Castle, general manager of the Wabash agency, which covers the country from Canada to the gulf and from Pittsburgh to Denver, said the plight of the salesman was the same everywhere.

Sales Managers Lose Jobs.

"We have dispensed with our sales department," he said, "and added three departments for industrial technicians and workmen. It's really tough now for the salesman, the sales engineer, the sales correspondent, and even some sales managers and executives."

The age limit also works against the salesman now out of work, after many years with one company. C. H. Thomas, manager of the O'Shea agency, reported that he can seldom place a man over 40, even if a job is open.

NEW CAR OUTPUT CONTINUES FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Detroit, Mich., July 18 (AP).—Ward's Reports, Inc., estimated today that this week's output of passenger cars and trucks for United States and Canadian automobile factories would total 109,912 units. Production last week was 114,318 and a year ago it was 53,020.

The survey said that only four plants are closed for the current model year, while at this time a year ago eight were shut down for the changeovers.

COTTON CLOTH MAKERS WIN 4c CEILING BOOST

But Henderson Will Cut Rayon Prices.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—A prospective 4 cent increase in the price ceiling on cotton print cloth was announced tonight by Leon Henderson, federal price administrator.

Leon Henderson.

Henderson announced that price ceilings on cotton gray goods and single ply combed cotton would be revised upward, effective probably early next week. He announced also that prices prevailing during the last week in May would be used as a basis for extending price ceilings to cover the branches of the cotton and rayon textile industries not now under maximum schedules.

Ceiling Going to 43 Cents.

The present ceiling on cotton print cloth will be raised from 39 to 43 cents a pound and other classifications of gray goods will be adjusted proportionately, Henderson said. Cotton textile makers had protested the ceiling as too low to cover rising costs.

[Earlier in the day a southern agricultural spokesman told a senate subcommittee that Henderson had "cost the farmers of the south millions of dollars" by fixing the maximum price of cotton yarn at 39 cents a pound. Story on page 5.]

The prices prevailing during the last week in May Henderson said, "allow fully for recent increases in cotton costs, cost of third shift operations [in factories], training of learners, and cost incident to power shutdowns."

Calls Rayon Prices "High."

The increase in combed cotton yarn prices under the ceiling schedule will amount to about 2 cents a pound, Henderson said.

Concerning rayon, Henderson said that "present prices for a number of types of rayon gray goods are considered too high" and that a ceiling would be established "below present levels."

PRIORITY RULE PLACED ON BIG CUTTING TOOLS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The Office of Production Management issued an order today regulating the use and distribution of cutting tools and providing that armament industries be given preference.

The order provides that no manufacturer or distributor may deliver cutting tools except to those customers who have a preference rating. It provides, however, that other orders may be delivered if all priority rated requirements have been met.

Disclose Lumber Is Being Bought to Send to Britain

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The department of commerce disclosed today that lumber and timber products are being bought under the lend-lease act for transfer to Great Britain. This was made known in department advices to the lumber industry on methods of submitting bids to the procurement division of the treasury. No information was given on the quantity to be bought.

FARM MACHINERY SHARES GIVE LIFT TO STOCK PRICES

Gains Mostly in Fractions as Volume Sags.

New York, July 18 (AP).—Aided by quiet strength in farm implements and specialties, the stock market today managed to emerge from an irregular session with modest advances outnumbering declines.

Altho there were a few gains of 1 to 2 points, closing improvement mostly was in small fractions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 43.5 after two days of minor reactions. Of 693 issues traded, 277 were up, 207 down, and 209 unchanged.

Volume Contracts Again.

The day's turnover of 423,800 shares was the second smallest for a 5-hour session this month. It compared with 455,770 yesterday.

Many customers lightened accounts for the coming week-end, brokers said, but there was enough buying demand inspired by pleasing business developments to offset selling.

The spread of farm mechanization to overcome the loss of labor to the armament program again spurred agricultural machinery shares. Motors were benefited by this week's production estimate.

CHICAGO LIST HIGHER.

Chicago Stock exchange prices were slightly higher yesterday on transfers of 13,900 shares. Of 76 issues traded, 33 advanced, 23 declined, and 20 closed unchanged.

Signode Steel reached a new 1941 high at 16¼. Commonwealth Edison was the volume leader on 700 shares and closed at 26⅝, up ⅛. In the trading from 2 to 2:30 o'clock, only 350 shares were transferred. This duplicated the low since the "extra" trading was started recorded June 27. Swift International was the only dually listed issue to show a change in this period, closing at 21⅞ in New York and 21¾ in Chicago.
